Ohio House Puts OK On Budget Bill

Final Approval Of 1.8 Billion Measure Now Up To Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Now it's all up to the Ohio Senate—the state's two-year budget of more than $1,800,000,000 and about 240 millions in new taxes to help pay the bills.

The Democratic-controlled Ohio House passed the budget bill Tuesday, 85-50, after beating off five Republican attempts to amend or stall it.

Between a 90-minute caucus and a long floor debate, it took nearly four hours to get the big money bill through the House and send it to the Senate.

Senate action will hinge on the fate of a handul of tax measures sponsored by Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. If the tax bills stall, so will the budget bill. DiSalle insists he will not consider a budget bill until he is sure the state has good prospects of enough money to meet the obligations the budget will impose.

Among the pending tax measures are bills to increase the corporation franchise tax 96 millions in the next two years, the cigarette tax another 46 millions and the sales tax another 34 millions

While Democrats contend their budget total is 13 millions lower than that appropriated by a Republican Legislature two years ago, Minority Leader Roger Cloud (R-Logan) disputed the claim:

"The appropriation bill calls for expenditures which will be 200 million dollars more than the expenditures of the last two years."

The difference between the two viewpoints appeared to lie in the fact both former GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill and DiSalle trimmed spending far below appropriations to make recession-shrunken revenues cover only necessary spending.

House Finance Committee Chairman G. D. Tablack (D-Mahoning) told the House: "We have good reason to believe that if the governor's tax program is enacted into law, this budget will be in balance."

The House defeated amendments to increase the poor relief appropriation by nearly 12 millions, cut personal services by 8 per cent, cut the amount allowed for running the Legislature and restrict the highway director's power to transfer funds. Finally, it defeated 72-62 an attempt to send the budget bill back to committee.

Rep. R. Martin Galvin (D-Lucas) called former Gov. O'Neill's no-new-tax program "a program without regard to the needs of the people. They knew we were going to run out of money.

"We know this is a big budget. We know it is not popular to pass taxes. We know we are not doing the popular thing and we know some of us won't be back. But the only thing to do is the right thing.

Motorist Held On Charge Of Manslaughter

Waiving a preliminary hearing, John M. Cash, 38, of Campbell was held for the Columbiana County Grand Jury under $1,000 bond today in Municipal Court on a second degree manslaughter charge in connection with a traffic mishap April 25 in which an East End man was killed and seven members of the victim's family were injured.

Cash, represented by Atty. James E. O'Grady of Wellsville, repeated his plea of not guilty this morning when Judge George L. Brokaw read the charge filed by Police Capt. Robert H. Pyle. both filed under city ordinances, accuse Cash of driving while intoxicated and driving left of the center line.

Arraigned early in May, he pleaded not guilty to all three charges and was released on bonds totaling $2,050.

The charge was filed in connection with a collision on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." in which Elba Lovejoy, 51, of Prince St. Ext. was injured fatally. The victim's wife and six children were hurt.

On a motion by Assistant Solicitor Richard J. Clark, the court continued two other charges against Cash pending the outcome of the Grand Jury's action on the manslaughter count. The other charges,

Auto Plunges Into Home

Two women attempting to swat an insect out of a parked station wagon were injured Tuesday night when the vehicle plummeted across a Chester street and smashed into the livingroom of a nearby home, injuring a third woman.

The shambles caused inside the home by the runaway vehicle is shown in the above photograph.

Mrs. Lucy Kennedy of Curry St., East Liverpool, and Mrs. Sarah Moore of Chester are in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital.

Mrs. J. Paul Finley, 311 3rd St., injured when the 1959 station wagon smashed into the room within 4 feet of her chair, was treated at the hospital and released.

Mrs. Kennedy, wife of Charles Kennedy, a city auto dealer, suffered cuts of the elbow, bruises and shock. She had stopped her auto to get rid of an insect inside it.

Mrs. Moore, 314 Alley-A, who resides nearby and volunteered to help Mrs. Kennedy, suffered a cut of the scalp, right hand and left wrist and bruises of the left hand. Mrs. Finley was treated for bruises of the right leg and a cut of the forehead.

Chester police have not yet questioned the injured women concerning details of the bizarre accident, but Mrs. Kennedy's parents — Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Carpenter of Alley-A — talked with their daughter and repeated her account.

After visiting the Carpenters last night, Mrs. Kennedy and her daughter, Lynn, 4, were in the station wagon driving along Al-

In Many Homes Here Thursday

Water Will Be Shut Off During Reservoir Work

Water will be in extremely short supply or lacking completely for 2,500 to 3,000 East Liverpool homes Thursday morning while the high service reservoir on Huston Hill is taken out of service to permit replacement of two faulty 10 - inch valves.

Under present plans, the curtailment in water service will begin at 7 or 8 a. m. tomorrow and continue for 6 hours "provided everything goes all right," according to Frank K. Robinson, city water department superintendent.

Here are the areas that will be affected:

All of West End north of W. 8th St., including Fairview St., Lisbon St., Holland St., Hubbard St., Florence St., May St., Chestnut St., W. 9th St., Burford St. and John St.

All of St. Clair Ave. from Broadway north to North St. and including these streets in the area: Burton Alley, Rigby St., Prospect St., Morton St., Ogden St., Peake St., Waterloo St., Jackman St., Ray St., Sarah St. and Norton St.

All the area north of Bradshaw Ave., including Avondale St. north to North St., and also including these streets: Minerva St., Illinois Ave., Bank St., Ephriam St., Ambrose Ave., Riley Ave., Indiana Ave., Cadmus St., Avondale St., Watson Ave., Blakeley St., Vine St., Thompson Ave. and Fawcett St.

The affected homes represent at least a third of the department's 7,500 customers.

Householders on the affected streets should draw extra supplies of water tonight — enough to take care of normal needs for at least six hours, Robinson said.

Householders should draw the emergency supplies by midnight tonight, Robinson emphasized.

Depending upon the location of the home in relationship to the water supply source, the service will be interrupted entirely or curtailed greatly during a minimum of six hours, he said.

Arrangements are being made to provide limited supplies of water for the affected areas by using small lines feeding in from the Pleasant Heights area, which is served out of the twin standpipes on Henry Ave., Robinson explained. The area served by the standpipes is not affected by the work on the Huston Hill reservoir.

A very limited supply of water will be provided for the West End area by using a 2-inch bypass line from Pleasant Heights, Robinson explained. For the other affected areas, regulator valves will be opened at North St. and St. Clair Ave. and on Pope Ave. at Franklin Ave., permitting water to flow

Over Berlin Crisis

Germany, France 'Cool' To Prompt Secret Talks

GENEVA (AP)—West Germany and France were reported today to be putting the brakes on U.S.-British enthusiasm for a prompt opening of secret talks with the Soviet Union over the Berlin crisis and prospects for a summit conference.

Some cautious moves were apparently going on in the Big Four foreign ministers conference concerning the start of secret negotiations.

When these do take place they will almost certainly determine whether a summit conference will be held this summer.

Maurce Couve de Murville of France and Heinrich von Brentano of West Germany appeared less anxious to get quickly into secret talks than their two Western colleagues.

They were said to be taking the line with U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Britain's Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd that, since the Soviet Union created the Berlin crisis, the Soviets should take the lead in finding a solution.

Couve de Murville and Von Brentano are not opposed to secret talks, diplomats said, but insist the Western allies must enter into such discussions with the greatest care.

Debate over the rival and mutually rejected Soviet and Western proposals for a German peace settlement will continue possibly until the end of the week.

This means a delay in the schedule which Herter tentatively anticipated last week—that private talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko might get under way by today or Thursday.

Von Brentano saw Herter for half an hour this morning. He indicated the secret phase of the Big Four talks probably would not begin for several days.

A conference source said Gromyko told Lloyd Wednesday night that he will make a new stab at getting Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia admitted to the conference. The Western foreign ministers rebuffed his earlier attempt to seat them.

Francis Lang Re-Elected By Road Backers

Atty. Francis H. Lang of East Liverpool was re-elected president of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway Association Tuesday night at its annual meeting in the El Rio Restaurant at Warren.

Atty. Lang is charter president of the association, which was formed a year ago by representatives of four Eastern Ohio counties to urge construction of a four - lane freeway to link East Liverpool on the Ohio River with Ashtabula on Lake Erie.

Two of the other officers of the association were returned by the Board of Directors, which held an election following selection of four new members of the board.

Returned were J. Paul Mossman of Youngstown, vice president, and John E. Krizan of Niles, treasurer. A. C. Patterson, manager of the Ashtabula Chamber of Commerce, was named secretary to replace Castle M. Smith of Salem, whose term on the board expired.

Named to three-year terms as members of the 12-man Board of Directors were: A. P. Morris of Salem, manager of the Columbiana County Motor Club and head of the Salem Chamber's highway committee; Leo Brown of Ashtabula, Joseph Seaborn Jr. of Mineral Ridge, and Thomas Cooksey Jr. of Youngstown. 5 Die, 5 Hurt In Explosion Of Seaplane

Solvent Used For Cleaning Causes Blast At Martin Co.

BALTIMORE (AP) — An explosion racked the hull of a seaplane being cleaned with a commercial solvent in a Martin Co. hangar today, killing five workmen and injuring at least five others.

A Martin spokesman said a dozen or so men were bathing the hull of a two-engined seaplane with a cleaning fluid using pressure hoses when a muffled explosion rocked the interior of the hull.

The big hangar, located away from the main cluster of Martin buildings, quickly filled with smoke, but there was little fire after the first flash.

An inquiry was begun quickly by Dr. Melvin Davis, Maryland deputy medical examiner.

The company said the cause of the blast had not been determined.

The hangar where the explosion occurred is used to clean and paint the seaplanes manufactured here before they are delivered. The hanger is separated from the rest of the plant by the airfield used by Martin's and an Air National Guard detachment.

Identification of the dead was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Three of the injured taken to University Hospital were identified as John Dunn, 27, with second-degree burns; James Holly, 36, leg injuries, and Jacob Goldstein, 42, whose injuries were described as slight.

The hospital understood Holly was blown out of the hull by the impact of the blast.

Inflation Is Argued In Steel Pact Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Contract negotiators in the basic steel industry argued in the open again Tuesday over whether wage increases would spur inflation.

The two top men in the talks agreed two weeks ago to quit airing their differences in public.

However, they spoke at a joint news conference Tuesday in sharp disagreement about their deadlock on basic economic issues.

The debaters were David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, and R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp.

Four-man teams resume negotiations today in an effort to prevent a strike by 500,000 workers when current three-year contracts expire June 30.

Manslaughter Charge Filed In Double Fatality

A charge of second degree manslaughter was filed Tuesday at East Palestine against Jack W. Bartson, 21, of Fremont, a trucker involved in the traffic deaths of two Elkton area men over the weekend.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon filed the charge with County Judge Earl Spalding, who scheduled a preliminary hearing Thursday for Bartson.

Democrats Settle Races At Midland

Democrats settled two contests in Tuesday's primary by nominating three for Council in a seven-way race and for three for the Board of Education in a six-way race.

Republicans were unopposed for the nominations to appear on the Nov. 3 ballot.

Nine offices are at stake in the borough and the Beaver County Bureau of Elections announced results of the voting yesterday.

Raymond A. Presutti, Lester Trainer Jr. and Joe D'Alesio, incumbents, were nominated for three Council posts over four other Democrats, Joseph Schulte, Michael Tepovich, James P. Henry and John Perkins Jr. The vote:

Presutti	787
Trainer	775
D'Alesio	672
Schulte	537
Tepovich	458
Henry	381
Perkins	284

The three Republicans for Council were Peter Benedict, Donald I. Green and William P. Leavell. Their vote:

Benedict	549
Green	522
Leavell	505

In the Democratic school board race for three positions, Leslie B. Roach, incumbent, received a nomination, but Maurice Newman and John Uccellini nosed out Sam Rosatone and John L. Haggerty, both incumbents, and Stanley Kragulac. The vote:

Roach	861
Uccellini	781
Newman	702

Stassen Wins Philadelphia Mayoralty Bid

Eagen And Gunther Are Nominated For High Court Posts

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP) — Harold Stassen easily won the Republican nomination for mayor Tuesday, with Republican backing that had been denied to him in his bid for governor last May.

His 56,530 votes were more than twice as many as the combined vote of his two opponents. They were Ralph C. Morrone and Joseph A. Schafer, both GOP city committeemen.

He will face incumbent Democratic Mayor Richardson Dilworth in the November election. Dilworth, seeking a second four-year term, ran unopposed in the primary.

Dilworth received 112,647 votes. The city has 928,000 registered voters, 514,000 of them Democrats.

It was sharp contrast to the party's reaction when the former Minnesota governor resigned last year as adviser to President Eisenhower and announced he wanted the Republican nomination for governor. He ran as an independent in the GOP primary last May and was thoroughly defeated.

As expected, Pennsylvania's primary drew only about 30 per cent of the 5,135,580 registered voters. There was only one battle for a statewide post.

That saw Supreme Court Judge Thomas McBride running as an independent on both Republican and Democratic tickets for a full 21-year term on the high court. On the Democratic side, Lackawanna County Court Judge Michael J. Eagen won by a 74,000-vote margin. On the Republican side, State Superior Court Judge Blair Gunther licked him by 250,000 votes.

In Pittsburgh, State Sen. Joseph Barr, Pennsylvania's Democratic chairman, won his party's nomination for mayor against only token opposition. He will face the successful Republican nominee, Paul B. Reinhold, in the November election for the post vacated by Gov. David Lawrence last November.

Ohioans Face Gasoline Hike On Thursday

New Tax In Effect; $5 May Be Added To Car Tags In March

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Many Ohio motorists will begin to pay another two-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax Thursday — and next March they may pay an extra $5 for their license tags.

The gasoline tax increase will become effective at 12:01 a.m., EST, Thursday after Gov. Michael V. DiSalle signs the act.

Gasoline in storage at retail filling stations at the time the tax boost becomes effective is not subject to the tax, but many stations are expected to start collecting the higher tax immediately.

The state tax jumps from five to seven cents a gallon. The federal tax is three cents a gallon. The new total tax a gallon therefore becomes 10 cents.

The increased tax, which includes a two-cent increase in the tariff on diesel fuel, is expected to produce an extra 116 million dollars in the next two years for new highway construction. Together with federal matching funds —running from 50 to 90 per cent— the new tax is designed to help finance a 300-million-dollar-a-year pay-as-you - go roadbuilding program.

The $5 license tax increase—estimated to yield about 20 million dollars a year—apparently is planned to carry out that promise.

The House Highways Committee Tuesday night recommended House passage of a bill for an across-the-board increase in auto license fees from $10 to $15 a year. The committee vote was 11-8 along party lines.

'Fill 'Er Up!' Is Cry As Tax Hike Nears

You had better get old "Lizzy" out of the garage and head her for the nearest service station before midnight if you want to get gasoline at the old price. A 2-cent-a-gallon boost goes into effect at 12:10 a. m. Thursday.

East Liverpool service station owners selling standard brands said this will make gasoline cost an average of 31 cents for regular, from 34 to 35 cents for high test and some supreme fuels will be about 38 cents.

5-Year Tax To Produce $2 Million

Measure Required 60% And Received 62% For Approval

Hancock County residents showed Tuesday they believe their children are deserving of improved, broadened educational opportunities by approving an additional 50 per cent levy in a special election.

The vote reflected the lightest turnout in many years on a school issue.

The levy required a 60 per cent vote for passage and received 62 per cent.

The complete but unofficial vote was:

For The Levy	2,153
Against The Levy	1,279

Most opposition came from Grant District, which embraces the Chester-Newell area. Residents in Clay District — New Cumberland-Pughtown—and Butler District—Weirton — cast favorable ballots for the most part.

Grant District voters turned down the proposal 401 to 353, with only 5 of its 9 precincts in favor.

Designed to raise over $400,000 annually for a 5-year period, the levy will produce a total of over $2 million to implement a wide list of school improvements recommended by E. K. Feaster, noted West Virginia educator.

Supt. Robert H. Hall echoed his gratification that the levy was approved as cutbacks on educational programs would have been necessary in case of rejection.

"The Board of Education would have been sorely pinched for funds in only a year had the levy not passed," the superintendent said.

The levy is an extension of an already existing 50 per cent levy which was enacted last year by county voters. It will go into effect July 1 and expire July 1, 1964.

Property owners with a $3,000 assessed valuation on homes will pay approximately $6.90 more than they now pay with the present 50 per cent levy and $1 million school bond issue on the tax duplicate.

The levy millage will be added to the tax duplicate in August, school authorities said.

Tuesday's total vote was only 3,432 which represents 16.7 per cent of the county's 20,441 registered voters. Veteran election staff workers said it was the lightest turnout they could ever remember for a school issue election.

If the Feaster recommendations are adopted, the county school system will have the benefit of a guidance or counseling officer for every 250-300 pupils to efficiently direct the pupils through the curriculum.

Levy funds may also be used for purchase of modern facilities for classroom work, with more emphasis to be placed on courses in science, mathematics and English.

Supt. Hall said earlier theat approval of the levy would present "more challenging" educational opportunities to the county's some 7,000 pupils attending high schools in Chester, Newell, New Cumberland and Weirton.

Here is the vote by precincts with the affirmative listed in each:

Grant District

Pct. 1, 45 and 37; Pct. 2, 37 and 59; Pct. 3, 61 and 47; Pct. 4, 53 and 60; Pct. 5, 34 and 31; Pct. 6, 20 and 50; Pct. 7, 28 and

Francis Lang Re-Elected By Road Backers

Atty. Francis H. Lang of East Liverpool was re-elected president of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway Association Tuesday night at its annual meeting in the El Rio Restaurant at Warren.

Atty. Lang is charter president of the association, which was formed a year ago by representatives of four Eastern Ohio counties to urge construction of a four - lane freeway to link East Liverpool on the Ohio River with Ashtabula on Lake Erie.

Two of the other officers of the association were returned by the Board of Directors, which held an election following selection of four new members of the board.

Returned were J. Paul Mossman of Youngstown, vice president, and John E. Krizan of Niles, treasurer. A. C. Patterson, manager of the Ashtabula Chamber of Commerce, was named secretary to replace Castle M. Smith of Salem, whose term on the board expired.

5 Die, 5 Hurt In Explosion Of Seaplane

Solvent Used For Cleaning Causes Blast At Martin Co.

BALTIMORE (AP) — An explosion racked the hull of a seaplane being cleaned with a commercial solvent in a Martin Co. hangar today, killing five workmen and injuring at least five others.

A Martin spokesman said a dozen or so men were bathing the hull of a two-engined seaplane with a cleaning fluid using pressure hoses when a muffled explosion rocked the interior of the hull.

The big hangar, located away from the main cluster of Martin buildings, quickly filled with smoke, but there was little fire after the first flash.

An inquiry was begun quickly by Dr. Melvin Davis, Maryland deputy medical examiner.

The company said the cause of the blast had not been determined.

The hangar where the explosion occurred is used to clean and paint the seaplanes manufactured here before they are delivered. The hanger is separated from the rest of the plant by the airfield used by Martin's and an Air National Guard detachment.

Identification of the dead was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Three of the injured taken to University Hospital were identified as John Dunn, 27, with second-degree burns; James Holly, 36, leg injuries, and Jacob Goldstein, 42, whose injuries were described as slight.

The hospital understood Holly was blown out of the hull by the impact of the blast.

Inflation Is Argued In Steel Pact Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Contract negotiators in the basic steel industry argued in the open again Tuesday over whether wage increases would spur inflation.

The two top men in the talks agreed two weeks ago to quit airing their differences in public.

However, they spoke at a joint news conference Tuesday in sharp disagreement about their deadlock on basic economic issues.

The debaters were David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, and R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp.

Four-man teams resume negotiations today in an effort to prevent a strike by 500,000 workers when current three-year contracts expire June 30.

Manslaughter Charge Filed In Double Fatality

A charge of second degree manslaughter was filed Tuesday at East Palestine against Jack W. Bartson, 21, of Fremont, a trucker involved in the traffic deaths of two Elkton area men over the weekend.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon filed the charge with County Judge Earl Spalding, who scheduled a preliminary hearing Thursday for Bartson.

Bartson's rig crashed head on Saturday on Route 7 with a car driven by William Cameron, 42, of near Elkton who died Saturday night at City Hospital. Frank Cameron, 64, his father died Sunday night at the hospital as a result of injuries suffered in the collision.

Democrats settled two contests in Tuesday's primary by nominating three for Council in a seven-way race and for three for the Board of Education in a six-way race.

Republicans were unopposed for the nominations to appear on the Nov. 3 ballot.

Nine offices are at stake in the borough and the Beaver County Bureau of Elections announced results of the voting yesterday.

Raymond A. Presutti, Lester Trainer Jr. and Joe D'Alesio, incumbents, were nominated for three Council posts over four other Democrats, Joseph Schulte, Michael Tepovich, James P. Henry and John Perkins Jr. The vote:

Henry	381
Perkins	284

The three Republicans for Council were Peter Benedict, Donald I. Green and William P. Leavell. Their vote:

Benedict	549
Leavell	505

In the Democratic school board race for three positions, Leslie B. Roach, incumbent, received a nomination, but Maurice Newman and John Uccellini nosed out Sam Rosatone and John L. Haggerty, both incumbents, and Stanley Kragulac. The vote:

Roach	861
Uccellini	781

5-Year Tax To Produce $2 Million

Measure Required 60% And Received 62% For Approval

Hancock County residents showed Tuesday they believe their children are deserving of improved, broadened educational opportunities by approving an additional 50 per cent levy in a special election.

The vote reflected the lightest turnout in many years on a school issue.

The levy required a 60 per cent vote for passage and received 62 per cent.

The complete but unofficial vote was:

For The Levy	2,153
Against The Levy	1,279

Most opposition came from Grant District, which embraces the Chester-Newell area. Residents in Clay District — New Cumberland-Pughtown—and Butler District—Weirton — cast favorable ballots for the most part.

Grant District voters turned down the proposal 401 to 353, with only 5 of its 9 precincts in favor.

Designed to raise over $400,000 annually for a 5-year period, the levy will produce a total of over $2 million to implement a wide list of school improvements recommended by E. K. Feaster, noted West Virginia educator.

Supt. Robert H. Hall echoed his gratification that the levy was approved as cutbacks on educational programs would have been necessary in case of rejection.

"The Board of Education would have been sorely pinched for funds in only a year had the levy not passed," the superintendent said.

The levy is an extension of an already existing 50 per cent levy which was enacted last year by county voters. It will go into effect July 1 and expire July 1, 1964.

Property owners with a $3,000 assessed valuation on homes will pay approximately $6.90 more than they now pay with the present 50 per cent levy and $1 million school bond issue on the tax duplicate.

The levy millage will be added to the tax duplicate in August, school authorities said.

Tuesday's total vote was only 3,432 which represents 16.7 per cent of the county's 20,441 registered voters. Veteran election staff workers said it was the lightest turnout they could ever remember for a school issue election.

If the Feaster recommendations are adopted, the county school system will have the benefit of a guidance or counseling officer for every 250-300 pupils to efficiently direct the pupils through the curriculum.

Levy funds may also be used for purchase of modern facilities for classroom work, with more emphasis to be placed on courses in science, mathematics and English.

Supt. Hall said earlier theat approval of the levy would present "more challenging" educational opportunities to the county's some 7,000 pupils attending high schools in Chester, Newell, New Cumberland and Weirton.

Here is the vote by precincts with the affirmative listed in each:

Grant District

Pct. 1, 45 and 37; Pct. 2, 37 and 59; Pct. 3, 61 and 47; Pct. 4, 53 and 60; Pct. 5, 34 and 31; Pct. 6, 20 and 50; Pct. 7, 28 and

Stassen Wins Philadelphia Mayoralty Bid

Eagen And Gunther Are Nominated For High Court Posts

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP) — Harold Stassen easily won the Republican nomination for mayor Tuesday, with Republican backing that had been denied to him in his bid for governor last May.

His 56,530 votes were more than twice as many as the combined vote of his two opponents. They were Ralph C. Morrone and Joseph A. Schafer, both GOP city committeemen.

He will face incumbent Democratic Mayor Richardson Dilworth in the November election. Dilworth, seeking a second four-year term, ran unopposed in the primary.

Dilworth received 112,647 votes. The city has 928,000 registered voters, 514,000 of them Democrats.

It was sharp contrast to the party's reaction when the former Minnesota governor resigned last year as adviser to President Eisenhower and announced he wanted the Republican nomination for governor. He ran as an independent in the GOP primary last May and was thoroughly defeated.

As expected, Pennsylvania's primary drew only about 30 per cent of the 5,135,580 registered voters. There was only one battle for a statewide post.

That saw Supreme Court Judge Thomas McBride running as an independent on both Republican and Democratic tickets for a full 21-year term on the high court. On the Democratic side, Lackawanna County Court Judge Michael J. Eagen won by a 74,000-vote margin. On the Republican side, State Superior Court Judge Blair Gunther licked him by 250,000 votes.

In Pittsburgh, State Sen. Joseph Barr, Pennsylvania's Democratic chairman, won his party's nomination for mayor against only token opposition. He will face the successful Republican nominee, Paul B. Reinhold, in the November election for the post vacated by Gov. David Lawrence last November.

Ohioans Face Gasoline Hike On Thursday

New Tax In Effect; $5 May Be Added To Car Tags In March

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Many Ohio motorists will begin to pay another two-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax Thursday — and next March they may pay an extra $5 for their license tags.

The gasoline tax increase will become effective at 12:01 a.m., EST, Thursday after Gov. Michael V. DiSalle signs the act.

Gasoline in storage at retail filling stations at the time the tax boost becomes effective is not subject to the tax, but many stations are expected to start collecting the higher tax immediately.

The state tax jumps from five to seven cents a gallon. The federal tax is three cents a gallon. The new total tax a gallon therefore becomes 10 cents.

The increased tax, which includes a two-cent increase in the tariff on diesel fuel, is expected to produce an extra 116 million dollars in the next two years for new highway construction. Together with federal matching funds —running from 50 to 90 per cent— the new tax is designed to help finance a 300-million-dollar-a-year pay-as-you - go roadbuilding program.

The $5 license tax increase—estimated to yield about 20 million dollars a year—apparently is planned to carry out that promise.

The House Highways Committee Tuesday night recommended House passage of a bill for an across-the-board increase in auto license fees from $10 to $15 a year. The committee vote was 11-8 along party lines.

'Fill 'Er Up!' Is Cry As Tax Hike Nears

You had better get old "Lizzy" out of the garage and head her for the nearest service station before midnight if you want to get gasoline at the old price. A 2-cent-a-gallon boost goes into effect at 12:10 a. m. Thursday.

East Liverpool service station owners selling standard brands said this will make gasoline cost an average of 31 cents for regular, from 34 to 35 cents for high test and some supreme fuels will be about 38 cents.

Another Plea For Positive Approach

The importance of a positive approach to a community's problems was emphasized by Walter Durkin, a utility executive from nearby Wellsburg, during Monday night's industrial development discussion at the Chamber of Commerce's spring meeting at the Country Club.

The thought has been expressed time and again locally, but it was reassuring to hear a similar expression from a neighbor who knows his way around in the development field.

Mr. Durkin's positive appraoch included the advice that "everyone should be a salesman for his community", with any negative thoughts tossed out the window in the interest of progress.

Mr. Durkin and the others who served on Monday night's panel have been working hard at industrial development in their own and surrounding areas for years and have a thorough knowledge of the effort that goes with progress in that direction. They have tackled the problem from virtually every conceivable angle.

Therefore, when they suggest that positive thinking is one of the prime requisites behind a development program, their words deserve the serious consideration that goes with their experience.

There's no question that negative thinking by too many people has been one of the major barriers to East Liverpool's efforts to move ahead.

Mr. Durkin's words should be taken to heart by these people. "Tearing down" serves no worthwhile purpose. Emphasizing a community's good points, however, often will mean the difference between progress and stagnancy.

It's something worth thinking about—positively!

More Than An Apple

To the pupils of Miss Ruth Deringer of the Fairfield-Waterford School and Mrs. Ruth Miller of the New Waterford School:

Instead of an apple, give teacher a firm handshake and a resounding pat on the back.

They deserve it for having been among those selected by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., as recipients of Classroom Teachers Medals.

The awards are made for exceptional service "in the cause of responsible citizenship, patriotism and a better understanding of the American way of life."

There Isn't That Much Money!

Perhaps Americans serve in high public office for the same reason that men climb mountains — because they feel challenged to attempt the seemingly impossible.

Neil H. McElroy, who had been planning to step out of the Department of Defense and go back to his private interests, now will stay on indefinitely because Donald A. Quarles, his chief deputy, died unexpectedly.

Quarles had been mentioned as McElroy's probable successor.

Thomas S. Gates Jr., who had been planning to step down as secretary of the navy and go back to his private business, will stay on as successor to Quarles.

He is being mentioned as McElroy's successor, if and when McElroy changes his mind and decides to get back into private business.

WITHOUT EXCEPTION, civilians who get into public service at this level of responsibility could go over to private business at higher salaries. Most of them made substantial sacrifices to take government positions. Yet, they are willing to work for the public. They will consent to undergo the ordeal of congressional cross-examination by unfriendly inquisitors, slanderous attacks by political hatchet-men, the necessity of taking blame for things they did not personally do and the ignominy of being ingloriously thumped and badgered by inferiors who take mean advantage of both real and imagined prerogatives.

There should be, once in a while, a faint huzzah for the fortitude of high public officials. As they climb the peaks of government, they should look down into the valley occasionally to see a fluttering of banners and pennants in celebration of their courage. And when they reach the peak and start their torturous descent they should be apprised by electronic impulse that the hearts of their countrymen beat as one with theirs.

It cannot be done and more's the pity. But a very great deal is owing to the unsung and largely unknown heroes and heroines who are giving representative democracy the benefit of their energy and intelligence. One of them is gravely ill in Walter Reed Hospital at this moment — John Foster Dulles, who was willing to give even his life. Another, Ezra Taft Benson, has taken more undeserved abuse from more blabbermouthed critics than any one man should be asked to endure.

But like the mountain that dares the climbers the public job challenges the citizen who is asked to tackle it. For Messrs. McElroy and Gates, who were about to call it a career, a few huzzahs, a fluttering of banners and pennants and a tingling sense of being appreciated. And likewise for Benson. For Mr. Dulles at this juncture, a prayer.

Polio Warnings

The storm warnings have gone up that a severe polio year may be just around the corner.

If the worst does come, U. S. health authorities predict that the period from July 1 through October will be the critical one. This means there are only six weeks for those who haven't been inoculated to take precautionary measures.

Health officials at Washington point to 11 states as possible trouble spots. Ohio is one, with six cases of paralytic polio reported to date this year compared with none at the same time last year. West Virginia is another.

Lest you forget, East Liverpool and other Columbiana County communities are in Ohio. And Chester, Newell and other Hancock County communities are very much a part of West Virginia.

Don't regard the possibility of polio lightly. See your doctor now and accept his advice as to what immunization measures should be taken. If you wait until six weeks from today, it could be too late.

Helping Hand

The Salvation Army is taking time out this week—but only briefly—from its busy schedule of helping others to accept a few plaudits on its own.

This is Salvation Army Week, having been proclaimed locally by Mayor Fred P. Lawrence. In his proclamation, the mayor emphasized the principles for which the "Army" stands as "mighty bulwarks against spiritual and physical need." His words cover many phases of service by those at the "Citadel".

Those who have enjoyed dinner at Christmas; those who have been made warmer by a gift of clothing; those who have been provided shelter; those who have received welcome hot coffee and doughnuts in time of fire; those who have been cheered by a well-chosen song while confined to a hospital bed; those who have rallied to the "Army's" call during weekly services—all join in heart-felt thanks for the helping hand which is being extended 365 days of the year.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Davis of New Jersey and three kids, Jeff, Chuck and Jane, have been selected for a trip to Moscow as the Most Typical American Suburban Family. They will shove off July 19 for six weeks.

Wanna bet the moppets, aged 10 to 15, don't regret leaving to spend the best part of the summer in Moscow and that mother doesn't have minutes when she moans, "All this packing and Khrushchev, too!"?

Our guess is that Jeff and Chuck have cried, "So who wants Moscow in our camping and picnic season!"

"Aw, gee, why have we got to go to Russia in July and August?" we can fancy Jeff saying. "Ask your father," says Mrs. Davis, seeking the usual out.

"Dad, what's with dropping baseball and fishing to go to Moscow?" asks Chuck.

"We're a typical suburban family," says popper.

"What's a typical suburban family?" asks Jane.

"A typical suburban family is a family that is smart enough to say: 'You have the wrong number,' and hang up when somebody in the city calls up to say you've won July and August in Moscow," explains mom.

POP CLAIMS it is really an honor, saying that the family was chosen from thousands.

"Name one," says mother.

"Can't we get out of it," pleads Chuck who is developing a fast curve ball.

"Can't we say we ain't typical and that it must be the family next door?" asks Jeff.

"The family next door got a warning they were under consideration and moved to the city," says mom.

AN AUTO has been built that lifts itself off the ground and proceeds with all wheels off the ground. It seems no more fantastic than the first auto did and may mean autoists will soon be traveling with no more traffic problems than Capistrano swallows. Imagine being able to hop over a fellow autoist while snapping at him and giving him a dirty look while flying under him at a crossing! What fun!

Our idea of good news would be a moratorium on the travels of Eddie and Liz. . . .

Most heavily burdened guy around is the mailman carrying "Get well" letters to Arthur Godfrey. For years he has been a daily and nightly visitor in millions of homes and the affection for him is terrific.

An autoist was arrested for drunkenness while driving his car on its rims. But how can any man afford enough drinks these days to mistake an auto for a sled?

BOLSHOI DANCERS in Madison Square Garden caused some excusable confusion. Fight fan who got in by mistake growled, "This sure is a long wait before the main bout." And they say a pro wrestling fanatic shrieked, "Rough it up!" during "The Dying Swan" number.

Edgar Apperson, pioneer auto builder, is dead at 89. Who remembers his Apperson Jackrabbit, built out in Kokomo, which was in almost every race?

Students in New York Medical College are told they should study "outer space medicine." Many aspects of outerspace flight are creating medical problems, professor says. "What's your trouble?" a doctor of the future may ask a patient and get the answer, "I can't sleep. I lie awake all night counting rockets."

At A Snail's Pace

Who Will End The Industrial Wars?

By Victor Riesel

Destiny rides again on troubled Southern roads — leaving behind some dead men, wounded women, shattered cars, dynamited homes, burned-out mill property and an ill-tempered mood which may spread across the land. For months now industrial wars, observed by the FBI and contained by divisions of National Guard troops, have raged across three states — North Carolina, Kentucky and a section of Tennessee.

Victor Riesel

Because of reports that almost a million dollars worth of property has been damaged during these wars — a coal strike led by John Lewis' United Mine Workers and the grim struggle led by William Pollack's Textile Workers of America — I have just spoken to the aides of Kentucky's Gov. "Happy" Chandler and North Carolina's Gov. Luther Hodges.

I checked because there can be no double standard towards bloodshed and violence. If Jimmy Hoffa's Teamsters had dispatched roving envoys into the states and had been involved in the rifle battles, we'd all be calling for parachute troops.

POLICE FILES in the executive offices of both states were read to me. They reveal that the state police and highway patrols have themselves been attacked.

Gov. Hodges' office reports that at least 15 state police cars have been damaged by rifle fire, rocks, bottles and other missiles.

In Kentucky, a crowd of more than 500 miners, described as unruly, surrounded police cars on April 24 near Combs. They let the air out of the tires so the cars couldn't be maneuvered.

In a round-up on violence in the Textile Union strike at Henderson, N.C., the governor's files revealed that one woman worker inside the struck Harriet and Henderson Cotton Mills was shot in the breast by a bullet which came through a window.

Two buildings, one used as a nursery for the children of working mothers and the other a storehouse, have been dynamited.

Backs of automobiles have been blown off. Thousands of dollars worth of damage has been inflicted on cars of non-strikers by rocks, dynamite and heavy ball bearings heaved David-like by slingshots.

Acid has been poured over company cotton "carding" machines. Dynamite went off under the kitchen of a non-strker.

There have been ambushes by rifle squads. Terror runs through the Henderson community, where strikers have been hurt, too.

LUCK RIDES with destiny there because there have been no killings or serious injuries. The state police believe that the shootings and dynamitings are terror tactics to frighten off non-strikers or retaliation by men smarting under the word "scabs."

But the Kentucky story is more ghastly. Two men have been killed in the coal war. Three strikers have been arrested on charges of murder near Stinking Creek. A fire, described as arson by the police, did a reported $200,000 worth of damage to a mine tipple near Hazard, Ky.

There have been eight costly dynamitings, according to police records. Near Vicco, Ky., an expensive 100-watt radio transmitter was blown up along with a 600-foot antenna belonging to a mine operator.

Then on May 4, the operators won from Federal Judge H. Church Ford a temporary injunction against the picketing. It was issued at Jackson, Ky., and will be argued on June 1.

There is no doubt that John Lewis is unhappy over the violence in the battle for another $2 a day in wages which the small mine owners say they can't pay and stay in business. If Lewis was not eager to end the violence he would have immediately appealed the injunction against the mass picketing and fighting.

JOHN L. didn't appeal. He hasn't even shouted out against the Justice Department's ordering in FBI agents to gather evidence of violent violation of the court order.

As for the other strike, from personal conversations with the spokesmen for the national headquarters of the Textile Workers Union, I can report that they are unhappy over the Henderson violence. But none of this has prompted the union's national leaders to be statesmen.

The Textile officials have attacked Gov. Hodges for sending out the National Guard. They have hit at the governor, though he has placed equal responsibility on both sides. And the other day John L. put on one of his great linguistic performances and attacked all efforts to bring labor laws up to date.

Mr. Lewis and Mr. Pollock are honest men. They do not steal. But what of the blood on the streets? How can that be washed away? Who will end these wars if not the government?

Lonely, Colorless Post

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Christian A. Herter's job as secretary of state is a position of high honor but it may become for him, before he's through, a lonely and colorless post.

There are several reasons for thinking so, now that the terminal illness of his predecessor, John Foster Dulles, fastens attention upon the task Herter has inherited:

1. He has very little time to develop new ideas. His job ends 20 months from now—when the Eisenhower administration goes out of office—unless the Republicans win in 1960 and want to retain him.

2. No one is really expecting from him any change in American foreign policy as it was laid down and pursued by Dulles, with President Eisenhower's blessing. It is now long-established and more or less accepted by American public opinion.

3. The shadow of Dulles will lie across every move Herter makes. It will be a yardstick for comparison between the two men. It cannot help but make Herter self conscious about his own performance, since Dulles was such a dominant figure.

4. He gives no sign of having any of Dulles' flamboyance—for instance, Dulles' startling phrase-making which agitated both friends and foes—and apparently has very little of Dulles' ego or forcefulness.

As an example:

At the foreign ministers meeting, now being held in Geneva, Herter's performance has been correct but because he is a quiet kind of man he has by no means dominated the conference as Dulles would have done, inside and out.

His statements at Geneva — where so far the meeting has been simply a propaganda contest between the West and the Soviets—already have been criticized as too prosaic and legalistic and lacking in public appeal and understanding.

The Dulles-Eisenhower foreign policy has several basic elements:

Yield nothing to Soviet protestations of goodwill unless accompanied by performance; preserve America's system of military alliances to keep the Soviets and Chinese Communists standing still; discount agreements with Moscow unless there is enforcement, that is, a check system to prevent cheating.

This policy has become so much of American thinking that Herter, even if he wanted to, could not deviate from it without subjecting himself to critical examination by Congress and the public.

And he shows no signs of deviating. As of now it would seem to be his task to follow that policy down the line until his term of office ends. Thus his job has the appearance of a holding operation.

That by its very nature calls for steady plodding, not a personality display.

The one change he probably will make is in running the State Department. Dulles conducted pretty much a one-man operation, doing most of his own thinking and handling most of the important diplomacy.

Khrushchev's Game

By David Lawrence

Moscow Seeks To Demonstrate Its Domination

GENEVA

Why does Nikita Khrushchev want so desperately to attend a summit conference? Why is he so eager to go to the United States and be an official guest at the White House? These questions have up to now been answered in various speculations in the press by anonymously quoted sources on both sides of the Iron Curtain. The summarized answer usually given is that Khrushchev desires personal acclaim and seeks recognition of his prestige as the chief of the Communist world.

David Lawrence

But there is far more to it than the gratification of a personal whim. To those who are familiar with the day-by-day workings of Soviet propaganda throughout the world, there is no mystery at all in the conspicuous bid by Khrushchev for a summit conference.

It has a meaning deeply imbedded in Soviet policy—to discourage the people in the satellite countries from thinking they can ever get moral support from the people of the Western countries and to bring about what is generally called "acceptance of the status quo."

This would mean acceptance of Soviet domination and the results of its aggressions as irrevocable.

IF PRESIDENT Eisenhower, figuratively speaking, takes unto his official bosom the Communist leader, it puts—according to the Soviet theory—the stamp of approval on the Communist regime in Moscow as a legitimate form of tyranny.

It says, in effect, also that the West recognizes virtually on terms of equality the philosophy of Communism itself as a proper means of suppressing individual rights in the world.

Since the United States is recognized today as the leading power in the Western world, Nikita Khrushchev would do almost anything to be able to convey to his own people the impression that he has won American approval.

All this is doubtless preliminary, too, to the expectation of a close fraternization with the officials of the next administration in Washington.

The Soviets are informed, of course, through their reading of American newspapers, that the next elections will bring the Democratic party into control not only of Congress but of the White House.

Already the Soviets have derived considerable encouragement on this point from the partisan statements of Sen. William Fulbright (D-Ark) who is chairman of the all-important Foreign Relations Committee in the United States Senate. Also, on the radio waves of Europe last Sunday night, a news dispatch was widely broadcast that Mr. Fulbright had said that President Eisenhower should invite Premier Khrushchev to come to the United States.

This comment was made despite the fact that Mr. Eisenhower himself at his press conference last week brushed off an inquiry about an invitation to Khrushchev on the ground that nothing official about the matter had been brought to his attention.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE are paying a high price for the divided government they imposed in the 1958 congressional elections and it is most regrettable that the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, when interviewed by a Soviet magazine editor, encouraged the Moscow government to believe that there will be "serious" changes in American policy toward the Soviet Union if and when the Democratic party gets control of the White House.

If ever there was a time for unity behind the President, it is today when a delicate negotiation is going on in Geneva.

It ill behooves any prominent member of Congress to tell the President publicly that he should invite Premier Khrushchev to the United States when this Communist autocrat hasn't shown the slightest inclination to give the peoples behind the Iron Curtain individual freedom or to release the many prisoners from other countries held by the Soviet government as hostages, although World War II has been over in Europe for 14 years.

If American idealism is to be sacrificed so readily by those who want the President to fraternize with the unscrupulous leader of the Kremlin, it will cause a grave diminution of the prestige which the United States has hitherto enjoyed in Europe under Democratic as well as Republican presidents.

PROGRESS at the Geneva conference is slow and likely to continue that way. For the Soviets feel no pressure to reach an agreement. They have been told in the last few days by Secretary of State Herter that there must be results at this conference to justify American participation in a summit meeting but they remain skeptical saying that American cities are already vying with one another to bring the summit show to their respective localities.

The palpable effort to commercialize such a meeting serves only to convince the Soviets that, no matter what they do in the negotiations here, they'll get their summit conference anyhow.

One need not wonder why the Soviets are so often intransigent considering the unwitting help they get from certain naive elements in the United States.

Housing Gravy Train

By Raymond Moley

Since it seems that Speaker Sam Rayburn will now redeem his promise to the House "liberals" by bringing the omnibus housing bill out of the Rules Committee and onto the floor for action, it is a pity that the complications of the measure cannot be known to the millions of taxpayers who have no lobby to represent them in Washington.

Only a few organizations, such as the National Association of Real Estate Boards, are struggling against the tide.

There is something for so many special interests that the "standby" queue is miles long.

INCLUDED in the omnibus bill is something for rich people seeking tax exemption through the billions in bonds which will be issued, land speculators seeking windfalls from the purchase and resale of property, urban planners who will get employment from the federal grants for "urban planning" (there is even something for the training of planners), people interested in "mortgage assistance," "elderly persons" seeking cheap housing, colleges wanting new buildings, veterans, farmers seeking new houses, hospitals and many others.

I have already commented upon two features of the housing operation now in practice—the windfall to the rich who buy tax-exempt housing bonds and the windfall to the people who buy back at a bargain price the land condemned and acquired by the government.

An additional word about these bonds. The House bill would bring the total amount of such bonds to $14,400,000,000. Unlike the bonds of the federal government, they are tax exempt.

The government must pay 4 or more per cent for the money to redeem these, which bear 3 per cent interest.

Thus, there would be an increasing burden of federal debt, while those able to pay taxes are enjoying exemption. The people who must pay for an 80-billion-dollar government must pick up the tab.

There is space here to consider only one additional feature of the bill, perhaps the most serious of all. The concept of public, subsidized housing originated in the desire to help really needy people living in miserable places to get a decent roof over their heads.

Hence, in earlier laws there was some semblance of an income test and limit for those permitted to have space. This has been gradually eased. But this bill would would open public, subsidized housing for an indeterminate number of higher income families.

THE BILL would permit occupancy by all families without a ratio between the gross family income (not just the income of the head of the family but of all earning members) and the rent charged.

The Public Housing Commissioner has said that even under the formula interpreting "lowest income group" (in the present federal law) the family income can go as high as $9,800 per year.

An interesting angle of this was pointed out in the Boston Herald last month concerning state-aided housing projects in that city. Members of the police and fire departments have recently been granted a very substantial raise in pay. But the Boston Housing Authority then sought to raise the income ceilings of the state-aided housing projects so that the 353 policemen's and firemen's families would not be disturbed.

No one objects to a good rate of pay for these essential public services. If a raise is needed and deserved and possible, they should get it in pay. But the policy of providing housing as a fringe benefit is neither in line with their own dignity nor public policy. For services should be compensated for with pay which can then be spent in a free market.

The first chief justice of the U. S. Supreme Court was John Jay (1745-1829), who later resigned stating he did not think "the Supreme Court would ever amount to much."

Another Plea For Positive Approach

The importance of a positive approach to a community's problems was emphasized by Walter Durkin, a utility executive from nearby Wellsburg, during Monday night's industrial development discussion at the Chamber of Commerce's spring meeting at the Country Club.

The thought has been expressed time and again locally, but it was reassuring to hear a similar expression from a neighbor who knows his way around in the development field.

Mr. Durkin's positive appraoch included the advice that "everyone should be a salesman for his community", with any negative thoughts tossed out the window in the interest of progress.

Mr. Durkin and the others who served on Monday night's panel have been working hard at industrial development in their own and surrounding areas for years and have a thorough knowledge of the effort that goes with progress in that direction. They have tackled the problem from virtually every conceivable angle.

Therefore, when they suggest that positive thinking is one of the prime requisites behind a development program, their words deserve the serious consideration that goes with their experience.

There's no question that negative thinking by too many people has been one of the major barriers to East Liverpool's efforts to move ahead.

Mr. Durkin's words should be taken to heart by these people. "Tearing down" serves no worthwhile purpose. Emphasizing a community's good points, however, often will mean the difference between progress and stagnancy.

It's something worth thinking about—positively!

More Than An Apple

To the pupils of Miss Ruth Deringer of the Fairfield-Waterford School and Mrs. Ruth Miller of the New Waterford School:

Instead of an apple, give teacher a firm handshake and a resounding pat on the back.

They deserve it for having been among those selected by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., as recipients of Classroom Teachers Medals.

The awards are made for exceptional service "in the cause of responsible citizenship, patriotism and a better understanding of the American way of life."

There Isn't That Much Money!

Perhaps Americans serve in high public office for the same reason that men climb mountains — because they feel challenged to attempt the seemingly impossible.

Neil H. McElroy, who had been planning to step out of the Department of Defense and go back to his private interests, now will stay on indefinitely because Donald A. Quarles, his chief deputy, died unexpectedly.

Quarles had been mentioned as McElroy's probable successor.

Thomas S. Gates Jr., who had been planning to step down as secretary of the navy and go back to his private business, will stay on as successor to Quarles.

He is being mentioned as McElroy's successor, if and when McElroy changes his mind and decides to get back into private business.

WITHOUT EXCEPTION, civilians who get into public service at this level of responsibility could go over to private business at higher salaries. Most of them made substantial sacrifices to take government positions. Yet, they are willing to work for the public. They will consent to undergo the ordeal of congressional cross-examination by unfriendly inquisitors, slanderous attacks by political hatchet-men, the necessity of taking blame for things they did not personally do and the ignominy of being ingloriously thumped and badgered by inferiors who take mean advantage of both real and imagined prerogatives.

There should be, once in a while, a faint huzzah for the fortitude of high public officials. As they climb the peaks of government, they should look down into the valley occasionally to see a fluttering of banners and pennants in celebration of their courage. And when they reach the peak and start their torturous descent they should be apprised by electronic impulse that the hearts of their countrymen beat as one with theirs.

It cannot be done and more's the pity. But a very great deal is owing to the unsung and largely unknown heroes and heroines who are giving representative democracy the benefit of their energy and intelligence. One of them is gravely ill in Walter Reed Hospital at this moment — John Foster Dulles, who was willing to give even his life. Another, Ezra Taft Benson, has taken more undeserved abuse from more blabbermouthed critics than any one man should be asked to endure.

But like the mountain that dares the climbers the public job challenges the citizen who is asked to tackle it. For Messrs. McElroy and Gates, who were about to call it a career, a few huzzahs, a fluttering of banners and pennants and a tingling sense of being appreciated. And likewise for Benson. For Mr. Dulles at this juncture, a prayer.

Polio Warnings

The storm warnings have gone up that a severe polio year may be just around the corner.

If the worst does come, U. S. health authorities predict that the period from July 1 through October will be the critical one. This means there are only six weeks for those who haven't been inoculated to take precautionary measures.

Health officials at Washington point to 11 states as possible trouble spots. Ohio is one, with six cases of paralytic polio reported to date this year compared with none at the same time last year. West Virginia is another.

Lest you forget, East Liverpool and other Columbiana County communities are in Ohio. And Chester, Newell and other Hancock County communities are very much a part of West Virginia.

Don't regard the possibility of polio lightly. See your doctor now and accept his advice as to what immunization measures should be taken. If you wait until six weeks from today, it could be too late.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Davis of New Jersey and three kids, Jeff, Chuck and Jane, have been selected for a trip to Moscow as the Most Typical American Suburban Family. They will shove off July 19 for six weeks.

Wanna bet the moppets, aged 10 to 15, don't regret leaving to spend the best part of the summer in Moscow and that mother doesn't have minutes when she moans, "All this packing and Khrushchev, too!"?

Our guess is that Jeff and Chuck have cried, "So who wants Moscow in our camping and picnic season!"

"Aw, gee, why have we got to go to Russia in July and August?" we can fancy Jeff saying. "Ask your father," says Mrs. Davis, seeking the usual out.

"Dad, what's with dropping baseball and fishing to go to Moscow?" asks Chuck.

"We're a typical suburban family," says popper.

"What's a typical suburban family?" asks Jane.

"A typical suburban family is a family that is smart enough to say: 'You have the wrong number,' and hang up when somebody in the city calls up to say you've won July and August in Moscow," explains mom.

POP CLAIMS it is really an honor, saying that the family was chosen from thousands. "Name one," says mother.

"Can't we get out of it," pleads Chuck who is developing a fast curve ball.

"Can't we say we ain't typical and that it must be the family next door?" asks Jeff.

"The family next door got a warning they were under consideration and moved to the city," says mom.

AN AUTO has been built that lifts itself off the ground and proceeds with all wheels off the ground. It seems no more fantastic than the first auto did and may mean autoists will soon be traveling with no more traffic problems than Capistrano swallows. Imagine being able to hop over a fellow autoist while snapping at him and giving him a dirty look while flying under him at a crossing! What fun!

Our idea of good news would be a moratorium on the travels of Eddie and Liz. . . .

Most heavily burdened guy around is the mailman carrying "Get well" letters to Arthur Godfrey. For years he has been a daily and nightly visitor in millions of homes and the affection for him is terrific.

An autoist was arrested for drunkenness while driving his car on its rims. But how can any man afford enough drinks these days to mistake an auto for a sled?

BOLSHOI DANCERS in Madison Square Garden caused some excusable confusion. Fight fan who got in by mistake growled, "This sure is a long wait before the main bout." And they say a pro wrestling fanatic shrieked, "Rough it up!" during "The Dying Swan" number.

Edgar Apperson, pioneer auto builder, is dead at 89. Who remembers his Apperson Jackrabbit, built out in Kokomo, which was in almost every race?

Students in New York Medical College are told they should study "outer space medicine." Many aspects of outerspace flight are creating medical problems, professor says. "What's your trouble?" a doctor of the future may ask a patient and get the answer, "I can't sleep. I lie awake all night counting rockets."

Helping Hand

The Salvation Army is taking time out this week—but only briefly—from its busy schedule of helping others to accept a few plaudits on its own.

This is Salvation Army Week, having been proclaimed locally by Mayor Fred P. Lawrence. In his proclamation, the mayor emphasized the principles for which the "Army" stands as "mighty bulwarks against spiritual and physical need." His words cover many phases of service by those at the "Citadel".

Those who have enjoyed dinner at Christmas; those who have been made warmer by a gift of clothing; those who have been provided shelter; those who have received welcome hot coffee and doughnuts in time of fire; those who have been cheered by a well-chosen song while confined to a hospital bed; those who have rallied to the "Army's" call during weekly services—all join in heart-felt thanks for the helping hand which is being extended 365 days of the year.

At A Snail's Pace

Who Will End The Industrial Wars?

By Victor Riesel

Destiny rides again on troubled Southern roads — leaving behind some dead men, wounded women, shattered cars, dynamited homes, burned-out mill property and an ill-tempered mood which may spread across the land. For months now industrial wars, observed by the FBI and contained by divisions of National Guard troops, have raged across three states — North Carolina, Kentucky and a section of Tennessee.

Victor Riesel

Because of reports that almost a million dollars worth of property has been damaged during these wars — a coal strike led by John Lewis' United Mine Workers and the grim struggle led by William Pollack's Textile Workers of America — I have just spoken to the aides of Kentucky's Gov. "Happy" Chandler and North Carolina's Gov. Luther Hodges.

I checked because there can be no double standard towards bloodshed and violence. If Jimmy Hoffa's Teamsters had dispatched roving envoys into the states and had been involved in the rifle battles, we'd all be calling for parachute troops.

POLICE FILES in the executive offices of both states were read to me. They reveal that the state police and highway patrols have themselves been attacked.

Gov. Hodges' office reports that at least 15 state police cars have been damaged by rifle fire, rocks, bottles and other missiles.

In Kentucky, a crowd of more than 500 miners, described as unruly, surrounded police cars on April 24 near Combs. They let the air out of the tires so the cars couldn't be maneuvered.

In a round-up on violence in the Textile Union strike at Henderson, N.C., the governor's files revealed that one woman worker inside the struck Harriet and Henderson Cotton Mills was shot in the breast by a bullet which came through a window.

Two buildings, one used as a nursery for the children of working mothers and the other a storehouse, have been dynamited.

Backs of automobiles have been blown off. Thousands of dollars worth of damage has been inflicted on cars of non-strikers by rocks, dynamite and heavy ball bearings heaved David-like by slingshots.

Acid has been poured over company cotton "carding" machines. Dynamite went off under the kitchen of a non-strker.

There have been ambushes by rifle squads. Terror runs through the Henderson community, where strikers have been hurt, too.

LUCK RIDES with destiny there because there have been no killings or serious injuries. The state police believe that the shootings and dynamitings are terror tactics to frighten off non-strikers or retaliation by men smarting under the word "scabs."

But the Kentucky story is more ghastly. Two men have been killed in the coal war. Three strikers have been arrested on charges of murder near Stinking Creek. A fire, described as arson by the police, did a reported $200,000 worth of damage to a mine tipple near Hazard, Ky.

There have been eight costly dynamitings, according to police records. Near Vicco, Ky., an expensive 100-watt radio transmitter was blown up along with a 600-foot antenna belonging to a mine operator.

Then on May 4, the operators won from Federal Judge H. Church Ford a temporary injunction against the picketing. It was issued at Jackson, Ky., and will be argued on June 1.

There is no doubt that John Lewis is unhappy over the violence in the battle for another $2 a day in wages which the small mine owners say they can't pay and stay in business. If Lewis was not eager to end the violence he would have immediately appealed the injunction against the mass picketing and fighting.

JOHN L. didn't appeal. He hasn't even shouted out against the Justice Department's ordering in FBI agents to gather evidence of violent violation of the court order.

As for the other strike, from personal conversations with the spokesmen for the national headquarters of the Textile Workers Union, I can report that they are unhappy over the Henderson violence. But none of this has prompted the union's national leaders to be statesmen.

The Textile officials have attacked Gov. Hodges for sending out the National Guard. They have hit at the governor, though he has placed equal responsibility on both sides. And the other day John L. put on one of his great linguistic performances and attacked all efforts to bring labor laws up to date.

Mr. Lewis and Mr. Pollock are honest men. They do not steal. But what of the blood on the streets? How can that be washed away? Who will end these wars if not the government?

Lonely, Colorless Post

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Christian A. Herter's job as secretary of state is a position of high honor but it may become for him, before he's through, a lonely and colorless post.

There are several reasons for thinking so, now that the terminal illness of his predecessor, John Foster Dulles, fastens attention upon the task Herter has inherited:

1. He has very little time to develop new ideas. His job ends 20 months from now—when the Eisenhower administration goes out of office—unless the Republicans win in 1960 and want to retain him.

2. No one is really expecting from him any change in American foreign policy as it was laid down and pursued by Dulles, with President Eisenhower's blessing. It is now long-established and more or less accepted by American public opinion.

3. The shadow of Dulles will lie across every move Herter makes. It will be a yardstick for comparison between the two men. It cannot help but make Herter self conscious about his own performance, since Dulles was such a dominant figure.

4. He gives no sign of having any of Dulles' flamboyance—for instance, Dulles' startling phrasemaking which agitated both friends and foes—and apparently has very little of Dulles' ego or forcefulness.

As an example:

At the foreign ministers meeting, now being held in Geneva, Herter's performance has been correct but because he is a quiet kind of man he has by no means dominated the conference as Dulles would have done, inside and out.

His statements at Geneva — where so far the meeting has been simply a propaganda contest between the West and the Soviets—already have been criticized as too prosaic and legalistic and lacking in public appeal and understanding.

The Dulles-Eisenhower foreign policy has several basic elements:

Yield nothing to Soviet protestations of goodwill unless accompanied by performance; preserve America's system of military alliances to keep the Soviets and Chinese Communists standing still; discount agreements with Moscow unless there is enforcement, that is, a check system to prevent cheating.

This policy has become so much of American thinking that Herter, even if he wanted to, could not deviate from it without subjecting himself to critical examination by Congress and the public.

And he shows no signs of deviating. As of now it would seem to be his task to follow that policy down the line until his term of office ends. Thus his job has the appearance of a holding operation.

That by its very nature calls for steady plodding, not a personality display.

The one change he probably will make is in running the State Department. Dulles conducted pretty much a one-man operation, doing most of his own thinking and handling most of the important diplomacy.

Herter is expected to rely more on the men around him.

All attempts to predict Herter's performance are off if the Soviets should create a major new crisis between now and the time he and the Eisenhower administration go out of office in January 1961.

Then he would probably need all the forcefulness and inventiveness he could muster.

Budget

We can say we did it because it was needed."

In the showdown, nine Republicans joined the Democrats to send the budget bill to the Senate.

Tablack said 50 per cent of the general fund budget—exclusive of highways—is for education, 22 per cent for welfare, health and safety and 16 per cent for mental hygiene and correction.

The Senate, in its major action of the day, passed and sent to the House a bill to replace the Ohio Water Resources Board with a nine-member Ohio Water Commission with authority to oversee the development of water resources for agriculture, industry and public use.

Under the bill sponsored by Sen. Danny D. Johnson (D-Tuscarawas), the governor would appoint six members, not more than four from either political party. Ex-officio members of the commission would be the directors of health, natural resources and public works.

The Senate also passed and sent to the House:

A resolution endorsing the "jobs after 40" campaign of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

A bill to encourage a voluntary apprenticeship program through an apprenticeship council which would be established in the Department of Industrial Relations.

A bill to continue the activities, now scheduled to end in September, of the attorney general in settling canal lands boundary disputes.

The Senate virtually completed legislative action on a bill requiring school boards to give notice of contract salaries to non-teaching employes.

Baptists Cite Their Progress Since Early '40s

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Southern Baptists today took a look at the seven-league strides by which they've advanced from regional group to nationwide denomination.

"Substantial progress" was the way a report to their annual convention put it.

From a geographical belt, confined primarily to 16 southerly states back in the early 1940s, the denomination has mushroomed through 45 states, including Hawaii and Alaska.

There are 9,206,758 members in 31,498 churches, second in size only to the Methodists among America's Protestant bodies. It's a multi-million-dollar operation, with contributions last year totaling $419,619,483.

These and other figures of growth were given by Executive Secretary Porter Routh as the convention went into its first day's business sessions.

Mary Baker Eddy, founder of Christian Science, was born at Bow, near Concord, N. H. in 1821.

Budget

We can say we did it because it was needed."

In the showdown, nine Republicans joined the Democrats to send the budget bill to the Senate.

Tablack said 50 per cent of the general fund budget—exclusive of highways—is for education, 22 per cent for welfare, health and safety and 16 per cent for mental hygiene and correction.

The Senate, in its major action of the day, passed and sent to the House a bill to replace the Ohio Water Resources Board with a nine-member Ohio Water Commission with authority to oversee the development of water resources for agriculture, industry and public use.

Under the bill sponsored by Sen. Danny D. Johnson (D-Tuscarawas), the governor would appoint six members, not more than four from either political party. Ex-officio members of the commission would be the directors of health, natural resources and public works.

The Senate also passed and sent to the House:

A resolution endorsing the "jobs after 40" campaign of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

A bill to encourage a voluntary apprenticeship program through an apprenticeship council which would be established in the Department of Industrial Relations.

A bill to continue the activities, now scheduled to end in September, of the attorney general in settling canal lands boundary disputes.

The Senate virtually completed legislative action on a bill requiring school boards to give notice of contract salaries to non-teaching employes.

Baptists Cite Their Progress Since Early '40s

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Southern Baptists today took a look at the seven-league strides by which they've advanced from regional group to nationwide denomination.

"Substantial progress" was the way a report to their annual convention put it.

From a geographical belt, confined primarily to 16 southerly states back in the early 1940s, the denomination has mushroomed through 45 states, including Hawaii and Alaska.

There are 9,206,758 members in 31,498 churches, second in size only to the Methodists among America's Protestant bodies. It's a multi-million-dollar operation, with contributions last year totaling $419,619,483.

These and other figures of growth were given by Executive Secretary Porter Routh as the convention went into its first day's business sessions.

Mary Baker Eddy, founder of Christian Science, was born at Bow, near Concord, N. H. in 1821.

Senior Citizens' Arts, Craft Display To Be Opened June 2

Final plans for the Senior Citizens' arts and crafts display to begin June 2 at the Carnegie Public Library were announced today by the committee representing the City Federation of Women's Clubs, the sponsoring arganization.

Mrs. Francis Lang is chairman and Miss Frances Jones, librarian, is co-chairman, assisted by Mrs. William Ogilvie, Miss Phyllis Crook, Miss Ora R. McElroy and Mrs. Richard C. Mayers.

The exhibition is open to all district senior citizens — men and women of retirement age — and will feature articles in painting, sculpture, ceramics, wood carving, rug making, quilting, crocheting and affiliated classifications. Work completed within the last five years is acceptable.

All entries must be submitted at the main desk at the library between 9 a. m. Tuesday and 8 p. m. Friday, May 29.

Each contributor must securely attach his name and address to his work. Submitting fragile or irreplaceable items is discouraged by the committee.

The number of entries displayed will be governed by the amount of space available and the volume of entries. Work should be called for after 9 a. m. on Monday, June 8, after the exhibition closes.

The federation has maintained a senior citizens committee for many years. However, this is the initial attempt to spotlight their hobbies and craftsmanship. The committee emphasized that "of retirement age" should not be misconstrued as meaning only retired people may enter. The show, open to everyone of that age bracket, will close June 6.

Elected Synod Head

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Rev. Jacob Wagner will have to resign his pastorate at the First Reformed Church in Cincinnati to take over the presidency of the Southwest Ohio Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. He and other synod officers were elected here Tuesday at the group's 21st annual meeting, which ends today.

Final plans for the Senior Citizens' arts and crafts display to begin June 2 at the Carnegie Public Library were announced today by the committee representing the City Federation of Women's Clubs, the sponsoring arganization.

Mrs. Francis Lang is chairman and Miss Frances Jones, librarian, is co-chairman, assisted by Mrs. William Ogilvie, Miss Phyllis Crook, Miss Ora R. McElroy and Mrs. Richard C. Mayers.

The exhibition is open to all district senior citizens — men and women of retirement age — and will feature articles in painting, sculpture, ceramics, wood carving, rug making, quilting, crocheting and affiliated classifications. Work completed within the last five years is acceptable.

All entries must be submitted at the main desk at the library between 9 a. m. Tuesday and 8 p. m. Friday, May 29.

Each contributor must securely attach his name and address to his work. Submitting fragile or irreplaceable items is discouraged by the committee.

The number of entries displayed will be governed by the amount of space available and the volume of entries. Work should be called for after 9 a. m. on Monday, June 8, after the exhibition closes.

The federation has maintained a senior citizens committee for many years. However, this is the initial attempt to spotlight their hobbies and craftsmanship. The committee emphasized that "of retirement age" should not be misconstrued as meaning only retired people may enter. The show, open to everyone of that age bracket, will close June 6.

Driver Jailed On 2 Charges After Mishap

A 40-year-old West End man was jailed on two charges early today after a traffic mishap at 5th and Market Sts. that damaged two cars.

Elmer Hashman of W. 8th St. was cited for driving while intoxicated and operating an auto without a driver's license in a collision at 12:43 a. m. that involved his 1951 sedan and a 1954 two-door sedan driven by Milbert Gorham, 23, of Lincoln, Neb., police said.

Hashman was fined $300 and costs and given a 10-day jail term when he pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court on the drunken driving charge. He also was fined $25 and costs on the license charge.

Gorham told police he halted his southbound car for the traffic light at 5th and Market when Hashman's auto rounded the turn off 5th St. and struck the left rear of his car.

Two cars were damaged in a mishap Tuesday at 4:54 p. m. on Anderson Blvd. at McKinnon Ave. and Maine Blvd., police said. It involved a 1959 two-door sedan driven by Victor Hargreaves, 36, of 360 Haywood St. and a 1954 sedan driven by Herschel E. Conley, 17, of R. D. 2, police said.

Both cars were halted on the Anderson Blvd. grade when Conley's foot slipped off the brake and allowed his auto to drift backward into Hargreaves', police said. Conley was cited for driving without a license.

Legislature Proposes County Salary Hikes

A bill to increase the salaries of elected county officials by about 10 per cent across the board was recommended for passage Tuesday by the Senate state government committee at Columbus.

As originally introduced the measure called for 50 per cent hikes.

The salary schedule is based on county population. Columbiana County now is in the 95,000-to-100,000 class, based on the 1950 census of 98,920.

Following are the old and new salaries for officers of the county under the increases provided in the bill:

Auditor, $8,500 to $9,350; treasurer, $7,900 to $8,700; sheriff, $6,400 to $7,050; Common Pleas Court clerk, $7,600 to $8,400; recorder, $6,400 to $7,050; commissioner, $5,800 to $6,400; prosecutor, $7,100 to $7,850; engineer, $8,300 to $9,150, and coroner, $3,600 to $4,000.

Potter Nearing 95 Retires After 64 Years On Job

Probably the oldest active employe of any industry in the Ohio Valley has started to take it easy after 64 years on the job.

Frank X. Martin of Jefferson St., Newell, retired Friday from the Homer Laughlin China Co. where he has been an assistant foreman in the decorating shop in charge of gold recovery.

Some potters have longer service records but what makes Martin's story remarkable is that he will be 95 years "young" on Nov. 25.

Martin was born in Benhof, Germany, on Nov. 25, 1864, and can recall the Franco-Prussian War days.

He remained in Germany until he was 18 when he decided "to see the sights" and came to the United States, settling in Trenton where he worked on rolling machines in a wire mill.

Following Horace Greely's advice to all young men to "Go West!," Martin traveled westward to New Cumberland where he started to work in a pottery.

He joined Homer Laughlin on Sept. 25, 1895, as a printer and when the company opened its plant in Newell in 1905 he became a foreman.

Senior Stadium To Be Named In Teacher's Honor

EAST PALESTINE — The naming of the senior stadium in memory of the late John B. Reid, longtime high school teacher who died in September, was approved by the Board of Education Monday night.

Mr. Reid, who was also a former Council president, taught at the school for 17 years, and was a sports supporter, serving as a coach for one season during World War II.

Formal dedication of the stadium in his name will be made at a football game next fall.

The board employed Mrs. Paul Steffens, 448 N. Market St., as an elementary teacher for the next term. Mrs. Steffens, wife of the president of the W. S. George Co., served as a substitute last year.

The board accepted the resignation of Wendell Spear, science teacher, who plans to return to New York state.

The board will be host to the Lisbon, Leetonia and Columbiana Boards of Education June 17 at the high school. Discussions will include school insurance and new state legislation.

Deep-Freeze Operation Fatal To Youth, 16

LONDON (AP)—A boy died today after undergoing a new type of deep-freeze operation to mend a hole in his heart.

The boy, Keith Fordham, 16, son of a schoolmaster, underwent the surgery Tuesday. The operation at first was pronounced a success, but the boy's condition worsened.

The deep-freeze technique involves cooling the body to 39 degrees below normal by pumping the blood through stainless steel refrigeration tubes. At 59 degrees the heart can be drained and stopped for more than 45 minutes, giving surgeons more time to work.

County Board Studies Request

School District Dissolution Asked

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday night took under study a petition from the Fairfield-Waterford School District to place on the November ballot a proposal to dissolve the school district and send pupils to Columbiana and East Palestine schools.

A total of 839 signatures are on the petition which was acknowledged last night by the board, and referred to the county election board for verification of the eligibility of the signers. Petitioners must be qualified voters.

THE BOARD is allowed by law 30 days in which to verify the names, after which another 30-day to act on whether or not to submit the proposal in the Nov. 3 general election.

Under the proposal, Fairfield Township would be merged with Columbiana schools while Unity Township in the Waterford district would be merged with East Palestine.

In other action the board approved the 1959-60 school calendar, along with a recommendation that local schools operate on Eastern Standard Time in September regardless of whether the territories are on Daylight Saving Time.

COUNTY SCHOOLS will open Sept. 1, following faculty meetings Aug. 31. The school term will end June 2, 1960.

Holidays will include two weeks at Christmas and one at Easter, along with Nov. 11 Veterans Day, Nov. 26 Thanksgiving, Feb. 22 Washington's birthday and May 30 Memorial Day. Classes will be suspended Oct. 2 for a county education workshop and Oct. 30 for the East Central Ohio Education Association meeting.

The board also approved hiring of a psychologist for county schools next term. If a qualified psychologist is not available, a guidance counselor and testing consultant will be hired.

THE recommendations of two science books and supplementary texts for gifted students was approved by the board.

Also recommended by the board was a grievance procedure for the schools. Teachers or lay persons with a grievance may consult first with the immediate authority in charge, then the school head, next the county superintendent and finally the Board of Education.

Supt. James McBride was authorized to obtain two tests for the county system under the National Defense Act by which the county will be reimbursed for the tests.

ATTENDANCE Officer Fred Lohman reported 120 calls made in April—35 school calls and 85 home calls. He reported he traveled 1,470 miles.

The board will meet June 16.

FBI Proves No Abuse In Lynch Quiz

POPLARVILLE, Miss. (AP)—FBI agents apparently have convinced Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson of Mississippi that they are not mistreating persons they question about the lynching of a Negro charged with raping a white woman.

Unofficial reports of mistreatment by FBI agents have grown out of investigations of the lynching April 25 of Mack Charles Parker, 23-year-old Lumberton truck driver who was dragged from his jail cell by a hooded band.

During the past three weeks, many persons in the area have been questioned. No arrests have been reported.

Patterson conferred Tuesday with Ralph W. Bachman of the FBI and later told newsmen:

"Mr. Bachman, whom I have known for some time, told me those things (harassing and mistreating people) had not happened. If those things have happened, I hope they stop; if they have not happened, so much the better."

Several complaints had been made to newsmen by persons who had been questioned by FBI agents.

The wives of several men questioned have expressed irritation over the persistency of the agents' questioning.

Car Crushes Boy, 2

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — Allen Sleek, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sleek of Sandusky County, was crushed under the wheels of an automobile Tuesday while crossing a road. He died in Memorial Hospital here about 30 minutes later.

KIWANIS SPEAKER. Frank M. Poland of the Weirton Steel Co. will speak at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday noon at the Travelers Hotel. Poland, director of education and training at the steel firm, will discuss human relations and everyday living. William Smith is program chairman.

Judge Frees Wife Who Made Plot To Kill Husband

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "I don't know anybody in the world who would take a woman back after she paid someone to kill him," said the judge.

His words were spoken Tuesday to Beatrice Gurley, 41, who offered a detective $1,000 to kill her husband. At her side stood the husband, Dave, his arm around her waist.

Judge Ben Willard freed her despite her plea of guilty to a charge of attempted murder.

"You're not uneasy sleeping out there in the same house with her?" the judge asked Gurley.

"Not a bit," replied the husband.

"Well, I just hope you know what you're doing. If you can sleep out there without fear, it's all right with me."

Mrs. Gurley made the deal for her husband's death with Ralph Metcalf, a detective who posed as a killer for hire.

Gurley told the court his wife "just got mixed up."

Hiding Place Proves Too Tight For Boy, 8

BETHPAGE, N.Y. (AP)—Eight-year-old Douglas Kitchen thought an empty oil drum near his home would make a good hiding place.

He found out Tuesday how wrong he was.

During a game he popped in and squeezed himself down to the bottom. Then he couldn't get out.

Finally police used an electric saw to cut the drum apart.

After an hour in a cramped position, Douglas couldn't straighten up. He was carried to a hospital in a sitting position. There his legs were massaged until he could walk again.

Women's Voters Group Plans Debates Today

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio League of Women Voters, meeting here in convention, debate today the question of state juvenile homes and highway safety.

Also coming up at today's session is the proposed agenda for 1959-60.

The league also will discuss support of legislation in the Ohio General Assembly, particularly those measures which would reduce inequalities in representation in the Legislature.

62 At Charter Program Of Chester Club

About 62 attended the annual charter presentation and "Ladies Night" dinner of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday at the Durbin Memorial Center of the Chester Methodist Church.

John Mostoller, minister of the East Liverpool First Church of Christ and a member of the East Liverpool Kiwanis Club, spoke on "The Three D's — Dimensions of Life."

Twelve members of the club, organized May 18, 1945, were introduced by R. M. McFarland, president. They were Thomas Ridge, Robert Douglass, DeMar Miller, Eugene Seeley, McFarland, Russell Davis, Dr. Howard Matthew, Clifford Comm, W. T. Parsons, E. G. Jackson, Wade Ferguson and Anthony Tridico.

Mrs. F. A. Hisson, widow of a former member, was a guest, along with seven visitors from the Weirton club which was the sponsor of the Chester unit. Ridge read a history of the club.

Mrs. Donald Smith sang, accompanied by Mrs. Theodore Martin. The invocation was given by the Rev. Howard Bright, and the meal was served by the Friendship Class of the church.

The women were presented carnation corsages. Lighted tapers and flowers decorated tables.

FBI Proves No Abuse In Lynch Quiz

POPLARVILLE, Miss. (AP)—FBI agents apparently have convinced Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson of Mississippi that they are not mistreating persons they question about the lynching of a Negro charged with raping a white woman.

Unofficial reports of mistreatment by FBI agents have grown out of investigations of the lynching April 25 of Mack Charles Parker, 23-year-old Lumberton truck driver who was dragged from his jail cell by a hooded band.

During the past three weeks, many persons in the area have been questioned. No arrests have been reported.

Patterson conferred Tuesday with Ralph W. Bachman of the FBI and later told newsmen:

"Mr. Bachman, whom I have known for some time, told me those things (harassing and mistreating people) had not happened. If those things have happened, I hope they stop; if they have not happened, so much the better."

Several complaints had been made to newsmen by persons who had been questioned by FBI agents.

The wives of several men questioned have expressed irritation over the persistency of the agents' questioning.

Car Crushes Boy, 2

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — Allen Sleek, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sleek of Sandusky County, was crushed under the wheels of an automobile Tuesday while crossing a road. He died in Memorial Hospital here about 30 minutes later.

KIWANIS SPEAKER. Frank M. Poland of the Weirton Steel Co. will speak at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday noon at the Travelers Hotel. Poland, director of education and training at the steel firm, will discuss human relations and everyday living. William Smith is program chairman.

Judge Frees Wife Who Made Plot To Kill Husband

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "I don't know anybody in the world who would take a woman back after she paid someone to kill him," said the judge.

His words were spoken Tuesday to Beatrice Gurley, 41, who offered a detective $1,000 to kill her husband. At her side stood the husband, Dave, his arm around her waist.

Judge Ben Willard freed her despite her plea of guilty to a charge of attempted murder.

"You're not uneasy sleeping out there in the same house with her?" the judge asked Gurley.

"Not a bit," replied the husband.

"Well, I just hope you know what you're doing. If you can sleep out there without fear, it's all right with me."

Mrs. Gurley made the deal for her husband's death with Ralph Metcalf, a detective who posed as a killer for hire.

Gurley told the court his wife "just got mixed up."

Hiding Place Proves Too Tight For Boy, 8

BETHPAGE, N.Y. (AP)—Eight-year-old Douglas Kitchen thought an empty oil drum near his home would make a good hiding place.

He found out Tuesday how wrong he was.

During a game he popped in and squeezed himself down to the bottom. Then he couldn't get out.

Finally police used an electric saw to cut the drum apart.

After an hour in a cramped position, Douglas couldn't straighten up. He was carried to a hospital in a sitting position. There his legs were massaged until he could walk again.

Women's Voters Group Plans Debates Today

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio League of Women Voters, meeting here in convention, debate today the question of state juvenile homes and highway safety.

Also coming up at today's session is the proposed agenda for 1959-60.

The league also will discuss support of legislation in the Ohio General Assembly, particularly those measures which would reduce inequalities in representation in the Legislature.

62 At Charter Program Of Chester Club

About 62 attended the annual charter presentation and "Ladies Night" dinner of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday at the Durbin Memorial Center of the Chester Methodist Church.

John Mostoller, minister of the East Liverpool First Church of Christ and a member of the East Liverpool Kiwanis Club, spoke on "The Three D's — Dimensions of Life."

Twelve members of the club, organized May 18, 1945, were introduced by R. M. McFarland, president. They were Thomas Ridge, Robert Douglass, DeMar Miller, Eugene Seeley, McFarland, Russell Davis, Dr. Howard Matthew, Clifford Comm, W. T. Parsons, E. G. Jackson, Wade Ferguson and Anthony Tridico.

Mrs. F. A. Hisson, widow of a former member, was a guest, along with seven visitors from the Weirton club which was the sponsor of the Chester unit. Ridge read a history of the club.

Mrs. Donald Smith sang, accompanied by Mrs. Theodore Martin. The invocation was given by the Rev. Howard Bright, and the meal was served by the Friendship Class of the church.

The women were presented carnation corsages. Lighted tapers and flowers decorated tables.

Water

downgrade on St. Clair in two 4-inch lines, Robinson added.

That stopgap action will permit a limited supply of water to some of the other areas that otherwise would be entirely without service, he explained.

The water level in the reservoir is being kept comparatively low today to make the job of draining easier. Pumping will halt tonight and the water department expects the big basin will be drained by Thursday morning by normal usage. However, if it still holds water when the job is ready to begin, it can be drained quickly by opening a big sewer outlet.

A very limited supply of water will be maintained in the reservoir while the work is under way, but it will not be sufficient to meet all normal needs, Robinson pointed out.

The faulty valves are being replaced in connection with a $32,000 project for erection of a new booster station on Laura Ave. to relay water from the low service reservoir on Thompson Ave. to the high service basin. As the valves at present cannot be either opened or closed, they must be cut out of the mains and replaced, Robinson explained. They can be used either as reservoir outlets or inlets.

The two valves lie under about 12 feet of earth just outside the reservoir. The replacement will be handled by the Bigler Construction Co. of Trafford, Pa., contractor for the booster station project.

Instead of sinking a vertical excavation to reach the valves, the contractor expects to reach them by digging horizontally into the side of a steep slope just outside the reservoir. As soon as the old valves are uncovered, the new valves and connecting pieces of pipe will be readied on the site for immediate installation.

The contractor started work Tuesday on the job of uncovering the valves and the work is continuing today.

While the high service reservoir is out of service, the standpipes will be kept at high levels in order to make the auxiliary service for the affected area as satisfactory as possible, Robinson explained.

"While we will be able to turn some water into the affected areas, we don't know if the supply will be adequate, so we are advising all affected householders to draw a supply in advance," Robinson said. "Some should have a limited supply, but the service may be out entirely for others."

He emphasized that the exact duration of the shortage cannot be determined in advance, but it is not expected to continue longer than six hours unless complications arise in the valve replacement work.

Car

ley-A toward 3rd St. when Mrs. Kennedy noticed the insect.

She stopped the auto, took her daughter out, and got back in to open the windows and chase the bug outside. She left the motor running.

While Mrs. William Smith of 3rd St. took care of the girl, Mrs. Moore — a neighbor of Mrs. Smith — volunteered to help chase the insect. She climbed into the front seat while Mrs. Kennedy was in the back of the station wagon. It was shortly after 9 p. m.

Apparently Mrs. Moore accidentally knocked the automatic gear shift, and put the motor into gear, and the auto careened across 3rd St., over the sidewalk and crashed into the front wall of the Finley home.

The bumper and about four feet of the front of the auto halted inside the livingroom when the wheels came against the foundation. The bumper was only a short distance from the shocked Mrs. Finley, who was sitting in a chair, reading.

Her husband, a Crucible Steel Co. employe, was visiting his mother of Carolina Ave. after he and his wife returned from a Kiwanis Club dinner. Finley said the car smashed the wall just below a window, battering a sofa on which he ordinarily would have been resting had he not gone out.

The wall was pushed in by the impact, and plaster scattered throughout the livingroom and into the rear of the home. Furniture was damaged, lamps bent and a chandelier twisted. Finley estimated total damage about $1,200 to $1,500.

Damage to the auto would be about $1,500, police estimated. The injured women were taken to the hospital by ambulance, and a wrecker removed the station wagon from the grounds. Plywood was placed over the splintered opening in the home until repairs can be started.

association, with Morris from Columbiana County, Brown from Ashtabula County, Seaborn from Trumbull County and Cooksey from Mahoning County.

The election of the directors followed a report from a nominating committee headed by Walter G. Scott of Hubbard. In addition to Smith, the expiring terms on the board were held by Robert Patterson and Owen A. Owens, both of Youngstown, and Brown.

Lang presented his annual report to the association. The Conneaut Chamber presented a petition asking the association to support improvements to Route 7. It was taken under advisement for later action by the board.

Water

downgrade on St. Clair in two 4-inch lines, Robinson added.

That stopgap action will permit a limited supply of water to some of the other areas that otherwise would be entirely without service, he explained.

The water level in the reservoir is being kept comparatively low today to make the job of draining easier. Pumping will halt tonight and the water department expects the big basin will be drained by Thursday morning by normal usage. However, if it still holds water when the job is ready to begin, it can be drained quickly by opening a big sewer outlet.

A very limited supply of water will be maintained in the reservoir while the work is under way, but it will not be sufficient to meet all normal needs, Robinson pointed out.

The faulty valves are being replaced in connection with a $32,000 project for erection of a new booster station on Laura Ave. to relay water from the low service reservoir on Thompson Ave. to the high service basin. As the valves at present cannot be either opened or closed, they must be cut out of the mains and replaced, Robinson explained. They can be used either as reservoir outlets or inlets.

The two valves lie under about 12 feet of earth just outside the reservoir. The replacement will be handled by the Bigler Construction Co. of Trafford, Pa., contractor for the booster station project.

Instead of sinking a vertical excavation to reach the valves, the contractor expects to reach them by digging horizontally into the side of a steep slope just outside the reservoir. As soon as the old valves are uncovered, the new valves and connecting pieces of pipe will be readied on the site for immediate installation.

The contractor started work Tuesday on the job of uncovering the valves and the work is continuing today.

While the high service reservoir is out of service, the standpipes will be kept at high levels in order to make the auxiliary service for the affected area as satisfactory as possible, Robinson explained.

"While we will be able to turn some water into the affected areas, we don't know if the supply will be adequate, so we are advising all affected householders to draw a supply in advance," Robinson said. "Some should have a limited supply, but the service may be out entirely for others."

He emphasized that the exact duration of the shortage cannot be determined in advance, but it is not expected to continue longer than six hours unless complications arise in the valve replacement work.

Car

ley-A toward 3rd St. when Mrs. Kennedy noticed the insect.

She stopped the auto, took her daughter out, and got back in to open the windows and chase the bug outside. She left the motor running.

While Mrs. William Smith of 3rd St. took care of the girl, Mrs. Moore — a neighbor of Mrs. Smith — volunteered to help chase the insect. She climbed into the front seat while Mrs. Kennedy was in the back of the station wagon. It was shortly after 9 p. m.

Apparently Mrs. Moore accidentally knocked the automatic gear shift, and put the motor into gear, and the auto careened across 3rd St., over the sidewalk and crashed into the front wall of the Finley home.

The bumper and about four feet of the front of the auto halted inside the livingroom when the wheels came against the foundation. The bumper was only a short distance from the shocked Mrs. Finley, who was sitting in a chair, reading.

Her husband, a Crucible Steel Co. employe, was visiting his mother of Carolina Ave. after he and his wife returned from a Kiwanis Club dinner. Finley said the car smashed the wall just below a window, battering a sofa on which he ordinarily would have been resting had he not gone out.

The wall was pushed in by the impact, and plaster scattered throughout the livingroom and into the rear of the home. Furniture was damaged, lamps bent and a chandelier twisted. Finley estimated total damage about $1,200 to $1,500.

Damage to the auto would be about $1,500, police estimated. The injured women were taken to the hospital by ambulance, and a wrecker removed the station wagon from the grounds. Plywood was placed over the splintered opening in the home until repairs can be started.

The election of the directors followed a report from a nominating committee headed by Walter G. Scott of Hubbard. In addition to Smith, the expiring terms on the board were held by Robert Patterson and Owen A. Owens, both of Youngstown, and Brown.

Lang presented his annual report to the association. The Conneaut Chamber presented a petition asking the association to support improvements to Route 7. It was taken under advisement for later action by the board.

Ceramic Society Honors 2 At Meeting In Chicago

Highest honors of the ceramic world were presented to two men Monday as the American Ceramic Society opened its four-day 61st annual meeting in Chicago.

It was the first time in the history of the society that the title of honorary member was conferred upon two men at an annual meeting.

Howells Frechette was singled out in recognition of many years of service to the ceramic field while chief of the division of mineral industries of the Canadian Bureau of Mines. He is past president of the Canadian Ceramic Society, which recently made him an honorary member. In the U. S. society, he has been chairman of the structural clay products division and dean of fellows.

John D. Sullivan was honored for "notable accomplishments in the ceramic sciences, for leadership in ceramic research and for many services to the American Ceramic Society."

Assistant director of Battelle Memorial Institute at Columbus, he is a past president of ACS and has held numerous other offices in the society and its refractories division.

The Ross Coffin Purdy Award for the most valuable contribution to ceramic technical literature in the last year went to Dr. Arnulf Muan, associate professor in the department of metallurgy at Pennsylvania State University for his paper, "Reactions Between Iron Oxides and Alumina-Silica Refractories."

The John Jeppson Medal, given in recognition of scientific, technical or engineering achievements in the ceramic field, was presented to Karl Schwartzwalder, director of research for the AC Spark Plug Division of General Motors. He is a past president of ACS.

Twenty-four men were elevated to Fellows of the American Ceramic Society, including Walter S. Mayer of the Mayer China Co. at Beaver Falls.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. Harry S. Truman and the former President have two reasons for rejoicing today.

Pathologists have determined that the tumor removed from Mrs. Truman's breast was not malignant.

And their second grandchild was born Tuesday in New York.

The tumor was removed by surgery Monday.

"Thank God," exclaimed the 74-year-old Mrs. Truman when she heard the report. "I did not want to go through the rest of my life having people feeling sorry for me."

Ohio Bank Chief Has Cancer; To Quit June 1

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Robert E. McDaniel, 47-year-old state superintendent of banks, says he has inoperable cancer that will force him to resign, effective June 1.

"I know what the situation is," McDaniel said, "and I've accepted it. I'm not giving up.

"Like Arthur Godfrey said recently, I think it might be better if we all realized how often this sort of thing happens."

McDaniel is a native of Lynchburg in Highland County. He has been with the State Division of Banks since 1945 and became superintendent in February 1958.

Link Seen Between Dizziness And Income

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — A specialist on problems of the aged says there may be a link between dizziness and income.

Dr. Juan A. Pons told a seminar on old age here Tuesday that 54 per cent of a test group of 200 volunteer subjects, all 60 or over, complained of frequent dizziness.

He found that sex, race and age had little or no relationship to the ailment. But he did note that more people in low income brackets suffered from dizzy spells than those who had earned more money.

A person who talks in his sleep is called a somniloquist.

House Slates Final Vote On Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government spending became a major issue today as the house headed toward final voting on a multi billion dollar Housing bill.

Leaders called GOP House members to an unusual early morning caucus, to rally every available vote to substitute a less costly program for a $2,100,000,000 Democratic-backed Housing measure.

Republicans gave themselves a 50-50 chance of success.

But Democratic leaders, with a big voting majority, predicted the defeat of lesser alternatives to their own wide-ranging program. It includes slum elimination, public housing, college and old-folks housing and liberalized FHA down payments.

The biggest test comes late today or Wednesday when the House votes on a substitute bill sponsored by Rep. A. S. Herlong of Florida, a Southern Democrat, but backed by the administration.

Herlong's bill calls for total spending of $1,300,000,000, compared with President Eisenhower's original suggestion of a $1,600,000,000 over-all program and the $2,600,000,000 Housing bill already passed by the Senate.

In debate Tuesday, Republicans openly cautioned that the Democratic-backed measure would meet a presidential veto.

And Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va) told the House that passage of the big measure would mean the start of a "wild spending spree."

Auxiliary At Chester Will Hold Poppy Sale

American Legion "Poppy Day" will be held in Chester Saturday by the auxiliary of Post 121.

Acting Mayor Roy Cashdollar has officially proclaimed "Poppy Day" stating, "It is fitting that we devote one day each year to pay special tribute to the disabled and needy veterans."

Mrs. Geneva Hill, poppy chairman, said a traffic solicitation will be held at Carolina Ave. and 6th St. from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Poppies, handmade by patients at the Newton Baker Veterans Hospital at Clarksburg, will also be sold on street corners.

All proceeds will be used for veterans and rehabilitation Mrs. Hill said.

Mrs. Dolly Harding, past president, inducted Mrs. Wanda Hanlon as president; Mrs. Margaret Thorn, first vice president; Mrs. Jean Broderick, second vice president; Miss Margaret Frischkorn, third vice president; Mrs. Peggy Rawlings, secretary, and Mrs. Mary Lou Brown, treasurer. William Ferrall is the outgoing president.

The attendance banner was won by Mrs. Emma Lewis' first graders.

2 Decisions Hit California County Right-To-Work

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— The State Supreme Court in two decisions Tuesday held county right-to-work ordinances were an invalid invasion of state jurisdiction.

But the 4-2 decision in a Trinity County appeal "in effect gives us a state right-to-work law," declared an employer attorney.

The decision established a new ruling case on organizational picketing in California.

The court, in a reversal of former decisions, declared the State Labor Code makes illegal union picketing of any firm where a majority of employes do not want to become union members.

"In effect, this gives us a state right-to-work law," said Nathan Berke, California Assn. of Employers attorney.

The court testing of the county measures started before the 1958 election campaign in which a state right-to-work proposition was a top issue.

Democrat Edmund G. Brown opposed it and won the governorship. William F. Knowland, former U.S. senator running against Brown, backed the right-to-work proposition. Knowland and the proposition were defeated by wide margins.

Streak Of Luck All Bad For Wellsville Fireman

Wellsville Fireman Robert C. Lloyd, 1714 Chester Ave., was being called "Lucky" today—but even his friends were smiling when they said it.

Lloyd had a streak of luck Tuesday, but it was all bad. The first thing was theft of his car from in front of his home. It was found burned near Lisbon. Then in the afternoon, his two children were each bitten by separate dogs at two separate places at two different times.

The children, a daughter, Peggy, 11, and a son, John, 6, were not injured seriously but Mrs. Lloyd said "it was almost too much for one day."

McClellan To Introduce Bill

Congress Urged To Meet Strike Threat Of Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) urged Congress today to meet head-on James R. Hoffa's threat to call a nationwide strike if labor unions are subjected to antitrust laws.

McClellan, chairman of the Senate rackets probers, said he will introduce soon a bill he has talked about to apply the antitrust laws to transportation unions. He gave no further details.

Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, told a Brownsville, Tex., audience Tuesday that organized labor's answer to such legislation should be to have all its collective bargaining contracts expire on the same date, and then strike.

"We can call a primary strike all across the nation that will straighten out the employers once and for all," Hoffa said.

Hoffa has been working to organize a conference of various transportation unions, including his Teamsters, and longshoremen and rail unions. He spoke at a district convention of the International Longshoremen's Assn. but indicated he was suggesting a strike by all labor unions.

The suggestion was quickly rejected by AFL-CIO President George Meany, who served notice Hoffa could not count on support from the federation's 12¾ million members. The AFL-CIO has expelled the Teamsters on charges of corruption.

Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich), a former Detroit union official, said a general strike "would be suicidal, just crazy," and added that "I think Hoffa has more sense than to do that." He noted that Hoffa had said a strike could be called, not that it would be.

But McClellan saw real danger in Hoffa's words, which he called a threat against Congress and the people. He said the Teamsters chief should not be allowed to get away with it."

Body Of Woman Is Identified As School Teacher

CLEVELAND (AP)—An attractive woman whose nearly nude body was found in a ditch covered with pine branches was identified early today as Mrs. Mary K. Jardine, a Garfield Heights high school English teacher.

Mrs. Jardine, 42, widowed mother of two children, had been missing since Saturday night.

A couple riding horses on the Halfred Farms estate in suburban Hunting Valley discovered the body Tuesday after one of the horses shied away from the makeshift grave. It was nude except for a stocking on the right leg.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber planned an autopsy today.

Out Of The Air

Goodbye, Satire, Goodbye

John Crosby is on vacation. While he is away his column is being written by guests.

By JULES FEIFFER
Author of Sick, Sick, Sick

A while ago Arthur Miller, in a preface to a satirical magazine piece, commented that he was updating its publication because he had found that his satires, far fetched as they may be, had the depressing habit of coming true.

It seems to be Mr. Miller's point (and it's certainly mine) that satire doesn't stand a chance against reality any more.

For example, what satirist in his right mind would dare dream up Robert Moses on the erosion issue or Sam Leibowitz and his courtroom passion plays.

Or the AEC setting up a group to study the effects of nuclear radiation and naming the group: Project Sunshine.

OR THE ERRING wife of Front Royal, Va., who escaped public censure by accusing her mate of being in favor of mixed schools.

Or a president who seems to begin every press conference with, "now, I want to make this clear," and then proceeds to render the English language indecipherable.

Or the present era of warmth toward our former enemies which suggests that the best way to get to love the Russians is to go to war with them, win it, and then feel guilty. We might then arm them with nuclear weapons to help protect us against Cuba.

OR THE WRITER who wrote a novel while a Communist, recanted and then had it bought by the movies, thereby presenting an interesting road map for those Communists who feel they've got as much right as any other bad novelists to see their works in VistaVision. The wave of the future may well be for a stifled writer to join the party, write a novel, quit the party, and make that movie sale which is the ritualistic rite of his acceptance back into the tribe. An added fillip might be for the film studios to then hire a black-listed screen writer who would anonymously do the adaptation.

Or that a test of good citizenship is to take shelter quickly during an H-bomb drill which few feel they would, in reality, survive. And a test of bad citizenship is to sit out the drill in the park and wave signs that say so.

Or the casual acceptance of the curious ethic that in time of crisis all previous opposition to policies which helped induce the crisis in the first place must suddenly be switched to support, in the interest of national unity.

OR THE RECENT theory that we should give the West Germans nuclear weapons so that they won't get to feel like second-class citizens and thus grow hostile. A sort of megatonic psychotherapy.

Or the blase satisfaction in accepting brand names as the root of our national malaise. "I'll tell you what our trouble is, Harry! It's Conformity, it's Madison Ave., it's the Organization Man, it's the Alienated Man, the Satus-Seeking Man, the Exurbanite, the Rat Race. It's the Emasculation of the Father Figure, Harry!"

Or that television's answer to the charge that it had killed the art of conversation was to inaugurate a series of discussion programs.

Or that each time an increase of strontium 90 is discovered in our air, a reliable source suddenly finds that we really can absorb more than was originally anticipated.

Or that the country's most influential literary critic is Jack Paar.

IT IS, you must admit, a pretty awe-inspiring list. And moment by moment it piles higher—a babel of incongruity. How can satire hope to compete?

To be effective, humor must have the touch of "it couldn't happen" about it. When it does happen—and day after day at that—humor loses the peg on which to hang its material. The satirist has been made unemployable by the very facts around him.

After all, how far out can you go in an age where moon shots are taken matter of factly?

It seems to me there is but one way out. And that is to cop out, quit the race, change the standards of the whole medium. If you can't outdo the truth, understate it. It's not nearly as funny that way, but at least it sounds plausible.

Day Off From School Leads To Boy's Death

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) —A revolver in a dresser drawer, a boy's curiosity, an afternoon off from school, nobody at home.

All these added up to death Tuesday for 14-year-old Roy Otto. He shot himself in the forehead while playing with his brother's .38 caliber revolver. His 11-year-old sister, Shirley, found his body.

Up To Crown To Reopen Old Murder Case

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—It is up to the crown to decide whether to reopen this royal colony's prime murder mystery, the 15-year-old Sir Harry Oakes case.

By unanimous vote, the House of Assembly Tuesday asked Scotland Yard to renew investigation into the Oakes slaying.

Raymond Schindler, an American detective who figured in the original probe, said he had information that would crack the crime.

Joining in the Assembly vote was Harold C. Christie, Sir Harry's House guest who found the Oakes battered body on a fire-swept bed July 8, 1943.

The only man ever charged with the slaying was Count Alfred de Marigny, Sir Harry's son-in-law. The Duke of Windsor, then governor of the Bahamas, hired veteran American police to work on the case. De Marigny was acquitted after a sensational trial in which charges were made that a De Marigny fingerprint was planted in Oakes' bedroom.

Oakes' daughter, Nancy, heiress to an estimated 200 million dollars, retained specialist witnesses in a costly fight to win acquittal for her husband. Their marriage later was annulled and each wed other partners.

Witness Identifies Akron Man One Of Armed Robbers

CLEVELAND (AP)—A witness in U. S. District Court has identified James F. Swartz of Akron as one of two armed robbers who stole $30,646 in a holdup at the South Akron Plaza branch of the Evans Savings Assn. of Akron on March 8, 1957.

Swartz, 34, went on trial Tuesday charged with participation in three bank robberies. The loot amounted to $65,627.

Other robberies with which he is charged include one at the Fairlawn Plaza Branch of the Evans Savings Assn. on Nov. 21, 1957, in which $8,389 was stolen, and the $26,592 robbery of the Towne Plaza branch of The State Bank Co. of Massillon on Sept. 18, 1958.

Mrs. Helen Pounders of Akron testified Swartz was the man who shoved her back into the savings association office as she was leaving the front entrance. She said she had gone to the office to transact business.

The witness said Swartz and his companion threatened the employes and customer's with pistols if they "dared to move."

Agreement Reached In 3-Month Guild Strike

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Agreement on all issues in the American Newspaper Guild's three-month-old strike against the St. St. Louis Globe-Democrat was reached Tuesday night.

Observers hailed the settlement as clearing the way for an end to the strike against St. Louis' only morning newspaper. The Globe hasn't published since 332 Guildsmen struck last Feb. 21.

The agreement, reached in the presence of two federal conciliators, came after seven hours of negotiations. Its terms were not disclosed.

It must be approved by the strikers, the executive committee of the St. Louis Guild local and by the Guild.

There was no indication as to when the Globe-Democrat could resume publication.

22 Holiday Traffic Deaths Seen For Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twenty-two persons will die in Ohio's Memorial Day weekend traffic despite added safety measures, officials here predict.

At a meeting Tuesday, officials from law enforcement agencies, the military, the governor's traffic safety committee and other safety groups discussed possible means to reduce the highway slaughter.

The group endorsed a plan proposed by the Highway Safety Department. Director J. Grant Keys said the program includes extra patrolmen, a get-tough policy for violators, imposition of "realistic" penalties for the violations, radio and newspaper safety reminders and vehicle safety checks.

Firemen Recover Body

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Firemen recovered the body of Biagio Stefano, 67, from the Mahoning River, where he apparently drowned while swimming Tuesday. It was the first drowning here this year.

School Bus Sheared

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The top of a school bus was sheared open like a can when the vehicle tried to pass under a bridge that was too low. Twelve of 35 students and two of three adults, passengers in the bus, suffered contusions and bruises and were treated at the scene. N. W. Brooks, 27, of Wilmington, was driving the bus through a Springfield Park Tuesday when it happened.

1,500 Cross Picket Lines At Test Site

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — About 1,500 Transport and Teamsters union members crossed picket lines set up by striking carpenters today in a move described by a Transport Workers Union spokesman as "in the interest of national defense."

The Carpenters Union, which struck Friday at the test center and nearby Patrick Air Force Base in a wage dispute with contractors, gave the Transport and Teamsters members permission to cross their lines to guard against interrupting scheduled missile launchings.

About 1,000 building tradesmen continued to respect the picket lines thrown up by the 115 striking carpenters.

Missile launchings have not been affected by the walkout.

The carpenters are seeking a one year contract with a 25-cent an hour pay increase retroactive to April 1, the date the old contract expired. The contractors have offered pay increases totaling 35 cents an hour over a two-year period. The first 15 cent raise would not be retroactive.

The present scale is about 2.85 an hour.

Out Of The Air

Goodbye, Satire, Goodbye

John Crosby is on vacation. While he is away his column is being written by guests.

By JULES FEIFFER
Author of Sick, Sick, Sick

A while ago Arthur Miller, in a preface to a satirical magazine piece, commented that he was updating its publication because he had found that his satires, far fetched as they may be, had the depressing habit of coming true.

It seems to be Mr. Miller's point (and it's certainly mine) that satire doesn't stand a chance against reality any more.

For example, what satirist in his right mind would dare dream up Robert Moses on the erosion issue or Sam Leibowitz and his courtroom passion plays.

Or the AEC setting up a group to study the effects of nuclear radiation and naming the group: Project Sunshine.

OR THE ERRING wife of Front Royal, Va., who escaped public censure by accusing her mate of being in favor of mixed schools.

Or a president who seems to begin every press conference with, "now, I want to make this clear," and then proceeds to render the English language indecipherable.

Or the present era of warmth toward our former enemies which suggests that the best way to get to love the Russians is to go to war with them, win it, and then feel guilty. We might then arm them with nuclear weapons to help protect us against Cuba.

OR THE WRITER who wrote a novel while a Communist, recanted and then had it bought by the movies, thereby presenting an interesting road map for those Communists who feel they've got as much right as any other bad novelists to see their works in Vista-Vision. The wave of the future may well be for a stifled writer to join the party, write a novel, quit the party, and make that movie sale which is the ritualistic rite of his acceptance back into the tribe. An added fillip might be for the film studios to then hire a black-listed screen writer who would anonymously do the adaptation.

Or that a test of good citizenship is to take shelter quickly during an H-bomb drill which few feel they would, in reality, survive. And a test of bad citizenship is to sit out the drill in the park and wave signs that say so.

Or the casual acceptance of the curious ethic that in time of crisis all previous opposition to policies which helped induce the crisis in the first place must suddenly be switched to support, in the interest of national unity.

OR THE RECENT theory that we should give the West Germans nuclear weapons so that they won't get to feel like second-class citizens and thus grow hostile. A sort of megatonic psychotherapy.

Or the blase satisfaction in accepting brand names as the root of our national malaise. "I'll tell you what our trouble is, Harry! It's Conformity, it's Madison Ave., it's the Organization Man, it's the Alienated Man, the Satus-Seeking Man, the Exurbanite, the Rat Race. It's the Emasculation of the Father Figure, Harry!"

Or that television's answer to the charge that it had killed the art of conversation was to inaugurate a series of discussion programs.

Or that each time an increase of strontium 90 is discovered in our air, a reliable source suddenly finds that we really can absorb more than was originally anticipated.

Or that the country's most influential literary critic is Jack Paar.

IT IS, you must admit, a pretty awe-inspiring list. And moment by moment it piles higher—a babel of incongruity. How can satire hope to compete?

To be effective, humor must have the touch of "it couldn't happen" about it. When it does happen—and day after day at that—humor loses the peg on which to hang its material. The satirist has been made unemployable by the very facts around him.

After all, how far out can you go in an age where moon shots are taken matter of factly?

It seems to me there is but one way out. And that is to cop out, quit the race, change the standards of the whole medium. If you can't outdo the truth, understate it. It's not nearly as funny that way, but at least it sounds plausible.

Day Off From School Leads To Boy's Death

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) —A revolver in a dresser drawer, a boy's curiosity, an afternoon off from school, nobody at home.

All these added up to death Tuesday for 14-year-old Roy Otto. He shot himself in the forehead while playing with his brother's .38 caliber revolver. His 11-year-old sister, Shirley, found his body.

Up To Crown To Reopen Old Murder Case

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—It is up to the crown to decide whether to reopen this royal colony's prime murder mystery, the 15-year-old Sir Harry Oakes case.

By unanimous vote, the House of Assembly Tuesday asked Scotland Yard to renew investigation into the Oakes slaying.

Raymond Schindler, an American detective who figured in the original probe, said he had information that would crack the crime.

Joining in the Assembly vote was Harold C. Christie, Sir Harry's House guest who found the Oakes battered body on a fire-swept bed July 8, 1943.

The only man ever charged with the slaying was Count Alfred de Marigny, Sir Harry's son-in-law. The Duke of Windsor, then governor of the Bahamas, hired veteran American police to work on the case. De Marigny was acquitted after a sensational trial in which charges were made that a De Marigny fingerprint was planted in Oakes' bedroom.

Oakes' daughter, Nancy, heiress to an estimated 200 million dollars, retained specialist witnesses in a costly fight to win acquittal for her husband. Their marriage later was annulled and each wed other partners.

Witness Identifies Akron Man One Of Armed Robbers

CLEVELAND (AP)—A witness in U. S. District Court has identified James F. Swartz of Akron as one of two armed robbers who stole $30,646 in a holdup at the South Akron Plaza branch of the Evans Savings Assn. of Akron on March 8, 1957.

Swartz, 34, went on trial Tuesday charged with participation in three bank robberies. The loot amounted to $65,627.

Other robberies with which he is charged include one at the Fairlawn Plaza Branch of the Evans Savings Assn. on Nov. 21, 1957, in which $8,389 was stolen, and the $26,592 robbery of the Towne Plaza branch of The State Bank Co. of Massillon on Sept. 18, 1958.

Mrs. Helen Pounders of Akron testified Swartz was the man who shoved her back into the savings association office as she was leaving the front entrance. She said she had gone to the office to transact business.

The witness said Swartz and his companion threatened the employes and customer's with pistols if they "dared to move."

Agreement Reached In 3-Month Guild Strike

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Agreement on all issues in the American Newspaper Guild's three-month-old strike against the St. St. Louis Globe-Democrat was reached Tuesday night.

Observers hailed the settlement as clearing the way for an end to the strike against St. Louis' only morning newspaper. The Globe hasn't published since 332 Guildsmen struck last Feb. 21.

The agreement, reached in the presence of two federal conciliators, came after seven hours of negotiations. Its terms were not disclosed.

It must be approved by the strikers, the executive committee of the St. Louis Guild local and by the Guild.

There was no indication as to when the Globe-Democrat could resume publication.

22 Holiday Traffic Deaths Seen For Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twenty-two persons will die in Ohio's Memorial Day weekend traffic despite added safety measures, officials here predict.

At a meeting Tuesday, officials from law enforcement agencies, the military, the governor's traffic safety committee and other safety groups discussed possible means to reduce the highway slaughter.

The group endorsed a plan proposed by the Highway Safety Department. Director J. Grant Keys said the program includes extra patrolmen, a get-tough policy for violators, imposition of "realistic" penalties for the violations, radio and newspaper safety reminders and vehicle safety checks.

Firemen Recover Body

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Firemen recovered the body of Biagio Stefano, 67, from the Mahoning River, where he apparently drowned while swimming Tuesday. It was the first drowning here this year.

1,500 Cross Picket Lines At Test Site

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — About 1,500 Transport and Teamsters union members crossed picket lines set up by striking carpenters today in a move described by a Transport Workers Union spokesman as "in the interest of national defense."

The Carpenters Union, which struck Friday at the test center and nearby Patrick Air Force Base in a wage dispute with contractors, gave the Transport and Teamsters members permission to cross their lines to guard against interrupting scheduled missile launchings.

About 1,000 building tradesmen continued to respect the picket lines thrown up by the 115 striking carpenters.

Missile launchings have not been affected by the walkout.

The carpenters are seeking a one year contract with a 25-cent an hour pay increase retroactive to April 1, the date the old contract expired. The contractors have offered pay increases totaling 35 cents an hour over a two-year period. The first 15 cent raise would not be retroactive.

The present scale is about 2.85 an hour.

Wellsville Council Given List

20 Streets Proposed For Repairs

A list of 20 streets in need of attention were presented Wellsville City Council Tuesday night for consideration in the annual street repair program.

Council will study the streets before deciding which will be fixed with city funds. Councilman Ancel Moore, street and light committee chairman, presented the list. He said his committee has made a survey of the entire town and listed those in the worst condition.

Those listed and the work suggested were:

HIGHLAND AVE., seal coat; Maple Ave. and Lisbon St., fill holes; Fawcett St., seal coat; Commerce St., fill holes and repair; Washington St. between 5th and 6th Sts., fill holes; Geisse Alley, general cleaning; Wood St. between 9th and 10th Sts., seal coat; Crawford Ave., between Aten Ave. and Henry Ave., seal coat; Chester Ave. from Henry to 18th St., seal coat.

20th St., grade, level, fill holes and oil; Nevada St., seal coat or blacktop; Shingler Alley, seal coat; Buckeye Ave., grade level, fill holes and oil; Danbury Ave., fill holes, level and oil; Anderson Ave. between 12th and 13th Sts., seal coat; 12th St., seal coat far end; 21st St., seal coat or grade and fill holes; Clover St., fill holes and repair, and seal coat alley at the rear of the City Hall.

Council adopted a resolution acknowledging receipt of $500 from Clarissa McCullough of Pittsburgh for the perpetual care of a family plot at Springhill Cemetery.

LEGISLATION was ordered appropriating $400 more for use in purchasing a new police cruiser. The Board of Control reported that bids were received but that not enough money had been appropriated.

Mayor William J. Shoub indicated new bids will be sought. The bids received were $2,260 from Ideal Chevrolet, including the trade-in of the 1956 Plymouth cruiser. Council had appropriated only $1,800.

Shoub said probably more dealers will bid when it is learned there is more money available. Seven dealers took out specifications.

Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson pointed out that the specifications call for an automatic transmission which boosts the cost.

Councilman Richard Brown, property committee chairman, reported that William Long, 2100 Clark Ave., has been named new city dog warden.

He said Long picked up a dog in his neighborhood which was a pet and shot it the same day. This is not legal, he said, but continued that Long has no place to house the animals. The dog had no license, he said.

"IT ALL points up the need for a dog pound," Brown said. He said bids are being received on a suitable place to house the animals.

Brown also said he received word from the Hammond Park Commission that one of the toilet facilities at the park was destroyed by vandals. Police are checking the incident, he said.

Solicitor William Bush said he is checking the city's obligation on the purchase of the Homer Simms property on Danbury Ave. as requested by the Army Corps of Engineers. The land is needed for a pondage area for McQueen's Run.

An old ordinance found indicates that the city is bound to purchase needed land in the area but does not definitely say what land is needed. A meeting will be held soon with the corps, he said.

Councilman J. Frederick Russell requested that a financial report on the relocation of the McQueen's Run and 2nd St. storm sewers be presented to council. The city is doing the work and in turn is being reimbursed by the corps.

THOMAS MILLER, secretary of United Brick and Clay Workers Union Local 539, in a letter requested that Council have a traffic light installed at the entrance of the Buckeye Plant of the McLain Fire Brick Co. at the lower end of Wellsville on Clark Ave. The entrance is on the new four lane highway and the workers need protection in getting into the line of traffic, Miller said. The street and light committee was asked to investigate.

Moore asked that street lights be installed on Lincoln Ave. between 17th St. and Aten Ave. and between 18th and 20th Sts. opposite Nicholson Stadium. His committee was told to check with the finance committee.

Myron Weis, Council president, suggested that only one meeting per month be conducted during the summer. Solicitor Bush was asked to check on the legality of the matter.

The Rev. William Hewitt of the Central Methodist Church gave the opening and closing prayers.

Blast Rips Tanker In Coal Field Unrest

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—A dynamite explosion Tuesday night blew up a fuel tanker truck parked near a non-union coal mine. The same truck was struck twice by a hidden rifleman's bullets a few hours earlier.

There were no injuries either time. The incidents were among a series of harassing violence since the United Mine Workers Union began trying to organize non-union mines in the area.

The UMW says, however, that it has had nothing to do with violence.

Tri-State Palsy Fund Hits $25,000

Richard G. Munk, president of the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Steubenville, Weirton, and vicinity, announced today that contributions to the campaign appeal held over the weekend, totaled $25,000, with approximately $18,000 in pledged contributions and $7,000 in direct cash donations.

Peter Donald and Virginia Graham headed a list of entertainers during the 16-hour telethon from the auditorium of the Steubenville High School. Leo Carrillo, better known as "Pancho" of the Cisco Kid series, participated. Over 40 acts and 6 bands participated and approximately 400 volunteer workers handled the show and organizational details.

Bill Pipes of Indiana Ave., Chester, and Don Hays of the Bell School Rd., appeared as musicians. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pipes and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hays.

The response will make possible continuing services to the cerebral palsied children and adults of this area and 25 per cent of the collected amount will be invested in the national programs of research and education aimed at discovering preventive measures against cerebral palsy incidence and the dissemination of information relative to this multi-crippler.

The Rev. George Crenshaw, treasurer, reminded donors that all pledges or other contributions should be forwarded to Palsy, c/o Union Savings Bank & Trust Co., Steubenville, as soon as possible so that an audit may be completed and final results announced.

East Liverpool and area communities raised $3,105 in Sunday's canvass of homes.

73 Expected To Attend Chester Senior Banquet

About 73 are expected at the annual Chester High School Senior Class banquet Thursday night at 6 at the American Legion home.

R. M. McFarland, principal, will be speaker and faculty members will be guests. Dinner will be served by the Purple and Gold Band Mothers and dancing will follow.

Glenn Stanley is program chairman. Jerry Linder is president, and Roy Cashdollar faculty sponsor.

Wellsville Council Given List

20 Streets Proposed For Repairs

A list of 20 streets in need of attention were presented Wellsville City Council Tuesday night for consideration in the annual street repair program.

Council will study the streets before deciding which will be fixed with city funds. Councilman Ancel Moore, street and light committee chairman, presented the list. He said his committee has made a survey of the entire town and listed those in the worst condition.

Those listed and the work suggested were:

HIGHLAND AVE., seal coat; Maple Ave. and Lisbon St., fill holes; Fawcett St., seal coat; Commerce St., fill holes and repair; Washington St. between 5th and 6th Sts., fill holes; Geisse Alley, general cleaning; Wood St. between 9th and 10th Sts., seal coat; Crawford Ave., between Aten Ave. and Henry Ave., seal coat; Chester Ave. from Henry to 18th St., seal coat.

20th St., grade, level, fill holes and oil; Nevada St., seal coat or blacktop; Shingler Alley, seal coat; Buckeye Ave., grade level, fill holes and oil; Danbury Ave., fill holes, level and oil; Anderson Ave. between 12th and 13th Sts., seal coat; 12th St., seal coat far end; 21st St., seal coat or grade and fill holes; Clover St., fill holes and repair, and seal coat alley at the rear of the City Hall.

Council adopted a resolution acknowledging receipt of $500 from Clarissa McCullough of Pittsburgh for the perpetual care of a family plot at Springhill Cemetery.

LEGISLATION was ordered appropriating $400 more for use in purchasing a new police cruiser. The Board of Control reported that bids were received but that not enough money had been appropriated.

Mayor William J. Shoub indicated new bids will be sought. The bids received were $2,260 from Ideal Chevrolet, including the trade-in of the 1956 Plymouth cruiser. Council had appropriated only $1,800.

Shoub said probably more dealers will bid when it is learned there is more money available. Seven dealers took out specifications.

Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson pointed out that the specifications call for an automatic transmission which boosts the cost.

Councilman Richard Brown, property committee chairman, reported that William Long, 2100 Clark Ave., has been named new city dog warden.

He said Long picked up a dog in his neighborhood which was a pet and shot it the same day. This is not legal, he said, but continued that Long has no place to house the animals. The dog had no license, he said.

"IT ALL points up the need for a dog pound," Brown said. He said bids are being received on a suitable place to house the animals.

Brown also said he received word from the Hammond Park Commission that one of the toilet facilities at the park was destroyed by vandals. Police are checking the incident, he said.

Solicitor William Bush said he is checking the city's obligation on the purchase of the Homer Simms property on Danbury Ave. as requested by the Army Corps of Engineers. The land is needed for a pondage area for McQueen's Run.

An old ordinance found indicates that the city is bound to purchase needed land in the area but does not definitely say what land is needed. A meeting will be held soon with the corps, he said.

Colavito Strokes 12th This Season

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Cleveland left on the start of a long road trip two weeks ago, Manager Joe Gordon said he would be satisfied if the team won seven of the 13 scheduled games. He felt it would be enough to keep the Indians in first place. He was right.

If Cleveland closes the trip with a victory over Washington tonight, it will be the seventh against five losses (one game was rained out) and it will assure the Indians of the American League lead. The Tribe opens a four-game series at home Friday night with the Detroit Tigers.

With Jim (Mudcat) Grant posting his seventh straight victory over the Senators, Cleveland won 5-2 here Tuesday night on home runs by Rocky Colavito, his 12th, and Jim Piersall and Woodie Held.

The triumph moved the Indians back into first place, a half game ahead of the Chicago White Sox, who bowed 2-1 to Baltimore.

Grant, who seems to have a magic touch over the Senators, won his third straight without a loss this season, two of them over Washington.

The young right-hander permitted only five hits in the seven innings he worked. He needed relief from Dick Brodowski when his right shoulder stiffened.

Colavito's second inning homer started a three-run rally off starter Hal Griggs. Minnie Minoso and Held singled after the home run. A sacrifice fly by Hal Naragon scored another run.

Ray Webster singled and Jim Piersall drove in the third run with a single to left.

The Senators scored a run in the second on three walks and a sacrifice fly.

Piersall's homer in the fifth and Held's in the sixth wound up the Indians' scoring.

Relief Specialists Add New Member To Their Group

By The Associated Press

George O'Donnell of Columbus and Johnny James of Richmond, relief specialists first class, added another member to their fraternity today.

He is Rene Valdes of Montreal, whose dual role as starter and reliever has been a big factor in the Royals climb up the International League ladder.

This trio of relievers all played key roles in helping their teams to victories Tuesday. O'Donnell pitched two innings of hitless relief as Columbus edged league-leading Miami 7-6. James gave only one hit and one run in four innings in saving Richmond's 11-3 victory over Havana and Valdes gave one run in the last six innings as Montreal defeated Rochester 10-8. Buffalo and Toronto were not scheduled.

Richard Winkler, Yale's 81st varsity football captain, has won letters for his backfield play the last two seasons. He's from Hinsdale, Ill.

Only 1½ Lengths From First Place

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those Baltimore Orioles are doing things the hard way and making it look easy while hovering near the American League lead.

They're third, 1½ games shy of first, after winning six of their last eight. But it hasn't been a breeze — not when they've had to take three of four from front-running Cleveland and Chicago's White Sox to do it.

Tuesday night, just 24 hours after Hec Brown and Billy Loes combined for a shutout that knocked Cleveland out of first, youngsters Billy O'Dell and Jerry Walker ended Chicago's brief stay on top by beating the White Sox 2-1. They did it with a joint-six-hitter backed up by O'Dell's game - winning inside-the-park home run.

Cleveland jumped back into the lead, a half-game ahead of Chicago, with a 5-2 victory at Washington. Last place Detroit moved within .025 percentage points of seventh-place New York by beating the Yankees 6-3. The Kansas City at Boston game was rained out.

O'Dell (2-2) gave up five of the White Sox hits, blanking them on three hits until the seventh, when he gave up a walk and singles by pinchhitter John Romano and Luis Aparicio. O'Dell called it quits in that inning, after bruising his leg fielding a grounder.

The Orioles, who now have won 10 of 13 one-run decisions, managed just four hits.

Rocky Colavito, Jim Piersall and Woody Held walloped solo home runs for the Indians, who wrapped it up with a three-run second against Hal Griggs (2-2) while right-hander Mudcat Grant made his brief career record against Washington 7-0.

The Tigers, who can swap places with the Yankees by winning today's wrap-up of a two-game series, chased Whitey Ford (3-3) in a four-run first inning. They counted two more on Rocky Bridges' single in the fourth, then were blanked without a hit by Art Ditmar and Tom Sturdivant. The Yankees out-hit Detroit 12-8, but Don Mossi squared his record at 2-2 with his second victory over the Yankees.

Johansson's Working On One Basic Theme

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP) — Ingemar Johansson is working on one basic theme:

Floyd Patterson must be better than he was the night he defended his world heavyweight title against Brian London in Indianapolis.

"We have 20 better than London in Europe," said the unbeaten European champ from Sweden who fights Patterson June 25 at Yankee Stadium in New York.

"I'm not saying that Patterson is bad. I am just saying that I think he must be better than he looked against London."

The Swede is installed in this Catskill resort. He plans to work out six days a week, taking Mondays off.

Work Rushed At Waterford

Waterford Park is busy preparing for the opening of its 1959 racing season, June 17 through Aug. 8.

Horace Wade, managing director, already is on hand and James F. Edwards, president, is expected to arrive in the next few days.

Several improvements already have been made under the supervision of resident manager Harry R. Bell and maintenance superintendent Howard Connors.

Included in the improvements were additional parking space in the grandstand area for some 250 cars. The main parking lots, which took a severe beating during the winter, are being reconditioned.

A new hedge on the infield turf course skirting the turns has been added for the summer meeting.

Waterford Park will open its stabling grounds on June 1 for the reception of horses, with the first shipments of the meeting due that day from Ohio.

Many new stables are expected to race their steeds at Waterford during the summer meet.

Relief Specialists Add New Member To Their Group

By The Associated Press

George O'Donnell of Columbus and Johnny James of Richmond, relief specialists first class, added another member to their fraternity today.

He is Rene Valdes of Montreal, whose dual role as starter and reliever has been a big factor in the Royals climb up the International League ladder.

This trio of relievers all played key roles in helping their teams to victories Tuesday. O'Donnell pitched two innings of hitless relief as Columbus edged league-leading Miami 7-6. James gave only one hit and one run in four innings in saving Richmond's 11-3 victory over Havana and Valdes gave one run in the last six innings as Montreal defeated Rochester 10-8. Buffalo and Toronto were not scheduled.

Richard Winkler, Yale's 81st varsity football captain, has won letters for his backfield play the last two seasons. He's from Hinsdale, Ill.

Johansson's Working On One Basic Theme

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP) — Ingemar Johansson is working on one basic theme:

Floyd Patterson must be better than he was the night he defended his world heavyweight title against Brian London in Indianapolis.

"We have 20 better than London in Europe," said the unbeaten European champ from Sweden who fights Patterson June 25 at Yankee Stadium in New York.

"I'm not saying that Patterson is bad. I am just saying that I think he must be better than he looked against London."

The Swede is installed in this Catskill resort. He plans to work out six days a week, taking Mondays off.

Only 1½ Lengths From First Place

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those Baltimore Orioles are doing things the hard way and making it look easy while hovering near the American League lead.

They're third, 1½ games shy of first, after winning six of their last eight. But it hasn't been a breeze — not when they've had to take three of four from front-running Cleveland and Chicago's White Sox to do it.

Tuesday night, just 24 hours after Hec Brown and Billy Loes combined for a shutout that knocked Cleveland out of first, youngsters Billy O'Dell and Jerry Walker ended Chicago's brief stay on top by beating the White Sox 2-1. They did it with a joint-six-hitter backed up by O'Dell's game - winning inside-the-park home run.

Cleveland jumped back into the lead, a half-game ahead of Chicago, with a 5-2 victory at Washington. Last place Detroit moved within .025 percentage points of seventh-place New York by beating the Yankees 6-3. The Kansas City at Boston game was rained out.

O'Dell (2-2) gave up five of the White Sox hits, blanking them on three hits until the seventh, when he gave up a walk and singles by pinchhitter John Romano and Luis Aparicio. O'Dell called it quits in that inning, after bruising his leg fielding a grounder.

The Orioles, who now have won 10 of 13 one-run decisions, managed just four hits.

Rocky Colavito, Jim Piersall and Woody Held walloped solo home runs for the Indians, who wrapped it up with a three-run second against Hal Griggs (2-2) while right-hander Mudcat Grant made his brief career record against Washington 7-0.

The Tigers, who can swap places with the Yankees by winning today's wrap-up of a two-game series, chased Whitey Ford (3-3) in a four-run first inning. They counted two more on Rocky Bridges' single in the fourth, then were blanked without a hit by Art Ditmar and Tom Sturdivant. The Yankees out-hit Detroit 12-8, but Don Mossi squared his record at 2-2 with his second victory over the Yankees.

Work Rushed At Waterford

Waterford Park is busy preparing for the opening of its 1959 racing season, June 17 through Aug. 8.

Horace Wade, managing director, already is on hand and James F. Edwards, president, is expected to arrive in the next few days.

Several improvements already have been made under the supervision of resident manager Harry R. Bell and maintenance superintendent Howard Connors.

Included in the improvements were additional parking space in the grandstand area for some 250 cars. The main parking lots, which took a severe beating during the winter, are being reconditioned.

A new hedge on the infield turf course skirting the turns has been added for the summer meeting.

Waterford Park will open its stabling grounds on June 1 for the reception of horses, with the first shipments of the meeting due that day from Ohio.

Many new stables are expected to race their steeds at Waterford during the summer meet.

Aaron Stopped But Braves Roll To 8-1 Win Over Giants

Hank 0-For-4 At Plate As Streak Ends At 22

Hank Aaron's been stopped, but the Milwaukee Braves are still rolling. After a week of winning they have a six-game streak and a 4½-game bulge, which might make it later than you think in that National League pennant race.

only bright spot the Giants' pitching, which gave up 11 hits, was an 0-for-4 collar on Aaron, who had hit in 22 consecutive games.

The Chicago Cubs and Los Angeles tied for third, just .001 percentage points behind the Giants, when the Cubs handed Philadelphia a seventh straight defeat 8-7, and the Dodgers ended their losing string at five by beating Cincinnati 6-4. The St. Louis Cardinals won three in a row for the first time, beating Pittsburgh 8-2.

The Braves got it over with fast, scoring four runs in the first on Wes Covington's No. 2 homer, with two on, and Del Crandall's solo sixth homer. Covington, 3-for-4, drove in four runs as the Braves finally caught up with loser Jack Sanford. The big right-hander had beaten them three in a row since April 18 of last season.

The Dodgers made it with five unearned runs. Johnny Klippstein (4-0) was the winner as the second of four Dodger pitchers. Willard Schmidt (1-1) lost it.

A two-run pinch single by Jim Marshall capped a winning three-run ninth for the Cubs after the Phils had taken a 7-5 lead with three in the top of the ninth, two on Wally Post's pinch homer. Ex-Cub Taylor Phillips (0-3) lost it and Don Elston (3-1) won it, both in relief.

Gino Cimoli hammered a two-run homer and Bill White drove in three runs for the Cards as Larry Jackson (2-5) beat the Pirates with a nine-hitter. He blanked the Bucs after the third as the Cards beat Ron Kline (3-2).

Strickland, Held Fill Ticket

Indians Didn't Need Help At Short, Third Afterall

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

In March, Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane tried to pry loose from the New York Yankees a shortstop and a third baseman.

Stories had him seeking Bobby Richardson for shortstop and Andy Carey for third base.

Meanwhile, Joe Gordon was hoping that the retired George Strickland, 33, would be a good utility infielder and that Woody Held, 27, an outfielder who had played some short and third, might carry enough wood to beat out Ransom Jackson, since gone, for third base.

Just before the season opened, Gene Leek, a bonus rookie from the University of Arizona, was ticketed for San Diego but was added to the Indians roster as a third baseman.

Shortstop and third base were the weak spots in the Cleveland defense. At least that's what the Indians figured.

Now there's been a complete turn about. With the Indians off to such a fine start it is being written that this is a team Lane carefully put together.

And naturally, Joe Gordon has climbed on the bandwagon.

"I still think we're as good as anybody," said Gordon after his two top pitchers, Cal McLish and Herb Score, humbled the slumping world champion Yankees who had Mickey Mantle out with a broken finger. Yogi Berra batting with dermatitis (a skin disease) on both hands and Moose Skowron playing with an oversized lady's corset to protect a cranky sacroiliac.

"These Yankees are tough and they'll be even tougher with Mantle in there," continued Gordon. "I like my ball club, though."

The Indians have been indeed fortunate to get good hitting and good infield play from Stickland and Held. Held smashed five home runs in his first eight games and when he was hurt, Leek took over and in his first game smashed out a home run.

The hitting of two ex-Yankees, Vic Power at first base, and Billy Martin, at second, has also been a big lift for the Indians. In pitching the comeback of Score makes them tough.

Dick Brodowski, a 10 - game winner at San Diego, seems to be the Indians' new relief ace. He hadn't allowed an earned run in his first 11 innings. This is the same New Jersey lad who couldn't make it with the Boston Red Sox and later failed to win even once in two years with Washington.

However, until the Indians show signs of weakening, Frank Lane must agree some of the best deals are the ones that never materialize. Two deals that did help Cleveland are the ones which brought Martin from Detroit to play second base and Jimmy Piersall from Boston to play center field.

But as for "putting the team together," as Cleveland writers will have us believe, the Indians were looking all spring for help on the left side of their infield. Now they don't need it. The team that trained in the better springtime climate of Tucson, Ariz., is clicking and certainly looks like the American League's best — or at least second best — team in the west. The Chicago White Sox, you might recall won three of their four games with the Indians in April.

O'Dell Ahead On Homer Bet With Wilhelm

BALTIMORE (AP) — Billy O'Dell was doubly satisfied with his 2-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox Tuesday night.

The Oriole lefty not only felt he had regained his form of last year but he won a wager as well.

O'Dell explained that he and pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm, neither noted for hitting, had bet on who would hit the most home runs during the season.

Both Orioles' runs came on O'Dell's inside-the-park second-inning homer Tuesday night, his first of the year.

"I've won the bet already," O'Dell said after the game.

O'Dell blooped the ball over first base for an apparent scratch single. But it hit on the white-washed wooden foul line and bounced over the head of right fielder Al Smith, charging in to field the ball on the hop. The ball rolled to the auxiliary scoreboard in deep right field.

The victory evened O'Dell's record at 2-2. Harried by a back injury earlier this spring, he was encouraged by the performance of his fast ball. "I'm getting stronger I feel sure of that," he said.

DETROIT (AP) — Bowler Marion Ladewig received a big tribute from her home state of Michigan today. Mrs. Ladewig, of Grand Rapids, became the first woman to be voted into the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame. Sports editors and sportscasters chose her among others in their annual elections. She has won more national bowling titles than any other woman.

Los Angeles Gains 6-4 Victory Over Cincinnati

LOS ANGELES (AP) — McMillan-Temple, Temple - McMillan: This is one of the superb double-play combinations of the National League. These two Cincinnati Reds are also something of a puzzle right now.

Shortstop Roy McMillan and second baseman John Temple are slender, wiry infielders who have one curious trait in common:

They both seem to have suddenly turned into sluggers this season.

It's too early to say for sure, but they both seem to be also making a lot more errors than usual.

Their errors Tuesday night complicated the two rallies that brought Los Angeles' Dodgers a 6-4 victory over the Reds.

Temple's batting is up in the rarified .340 area and McMillan has already hit four homers—twice as many for him as in 1957-1958 combined.

But disconcerting errors by the two keep cropping up.

Los Angeles started the sixth inning with singles by Joe Pignatano and Bob Lillis. Then Temple snared an easy grounder but threw widly to first, scoring the first run of a four-run rally.

There were two outs in the ninth when Cincinnati made its final effort to recoup. Frank Robinson walked, and singles by Frank Thomas and Gus Bell put one run across. Then Clem Labine struck out Jerry Lynch to end it.

Temple had tripled in a tie-breaker run in the fourth.

In the third, a walk and two singles had scored one Dodger run. McMillan bobbled Don Demeter's grounder, loading the bases, and the tying marker came in while Temple caught Norm Larker at first.

Cincinnati scored one run in the first inning, and another in the third.

The first endurance trial of the road trip comes in tonight's twi-night doubleheader here. Manager Smith decided to lead off with Brooks Lawrence and Don Newcombe.

Los Angeles plans to start southpaw Danny McDevitt and Carl Erskine or Sandy Koufax.

HANK AARON
Finally Collared.

only bright spot the Giants' pitching, which gave up 11 hits, was an 0-for-4 collar on Aaron, who had hit in 22 consecutive games.

The Chicago Cubs and Los Angeles tied for third, just .001 percentage points behind the Giants, when the Cubs handed Philadelphia a seventh straight defeat 8-7, and the Dodgers ended their losing string at five by beating Cincinnati 6-4. The St. Louis Cardinals won three in a row for the first time, beating Pittsburgh 8-2.

The Braves got it over with fast, scoring four runs in the first on Wes Covington's No. 2 homer, with two on, and Del Crandall's solo sixth homer. Covington, 3-for-4, drove in four runs as the Braves finally caught up with loser Jack Sanford. The big right-hander had beaten them three in a row since April 18 of last season.

The Dodgers made it with five unearned runs. Johnny Klippstein (4-0) was the winner as the second of four Dodger pitchers. Willard Schmidt (1-1) lost it.

A two-run pinch single by Jim Marshall capped a winning three-run ninth for the Cubs after the Phils had taken a 7-5 lead with three in the top of the ninth, two on Wally Post's pinch homer. Ex-Cub Taylor Phillips (0-3) lost it and Don Elston (3-1) won it, both in relief.

Gino Cimoli hammered a two-run homer and Bill White drove in three runs for the Cards as Larry Jackson (2-5) beat the Pirates with a nine-hitter. He blanked the Bucs after the third as the Cards beat Ron Kline (3-2).

Los Angeles Gains 6-4 Victory Over Cincinnati

LOS ANGELES (AP) — McMillan-Temple, Temple - McMillan: This is one of the superb double-play combinations of the National League. These two Cincinnati Reds are also something of a puzzle right now.

Shortstop Roy McMillan and second baseman John Temple are slender, wiry infielders who have one curious trait in common:

They both seem to have suddenly turned into sluggers this season.

It's too early to say for sure, but they both seem to be also making a lot more errors than usual.

Their errors Tuesday night complicated the two rallies that brought Los Angeles' Dodgers a 6-4 victory over the Reds.

Temple's batting is up in the rarified .340 area and McMillan has already hit four homers—twice as many for him as in 1957-1958 combined.

But disconcerting errors by the two keep cropping up.

Los Angeles started the sixth inning with singles by Joe Pignatano and Bob Lillis. Then Temple snared an easy grounder but threw widly to first, scoring the first run of a four-run rally.

There were two outs in the ninth when Cincinnati made its final effort to recoup. Frank Robinson walked, and singles by Frank Thomas and Gus Bell put one run across. Then Clem Labine struck out Jerry Lynch to end it.

Temple had tripled in a tie-breaker run in the fourth.

In the third, a walk and two singles had scored one Dodger run. McMillan bobbled Don Demeter's grounder, loading the bases, and the tying marker came in while Temple caught Norm Larker at first.

Cincinnati scored one run in the first inning, and another in the third.

The first endurance trial of the road trip comes in tonight's twi-night doubleheader here. Manager Smith decided to lead off with Brooks Lawrence and Don Newcombe.

Los Angeles plans to start southpaw Danny McDevitt and Carl Erskine or Sandy Koufax.

Indians Didn't Need Help At Short, Third Afterall

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

In March, Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane tried to pry loose from the New York Yankees a shortstop and a third baseman.

Stories had him seeking Bobby Richardson for shortstop and Andy Carey for third base.

Meanwhile, Joe Gordon was hoping that the retired George Strickland, 33, would be a good utility infielder and that Woody Held, 27, an outfielder who had played some short and third, might carry enough wood to beat out Ransom Jackson, since gone, for third base.

Just before the season opened, Gene Leek, a bonus rookie from the University of Arizona, was ticketed for San Diego but was added to the Indians roster as a third baseman.

Shortstop and third base were the weak spots in the Cleveland defense. At least that's what the Indians figured.

Now there's been a complete turn about. With the Indians off to such a fine start it is being written that this is a team Lane carefully put together.

And naturally, Joe Gordon has climbed on the bandwagon.

"I still think we're as good as anybody," said Gordon after his two top pitchers, Cal McLish and Herb Score, humbled the slumping world champion Yankees who had Mickey Mantle out with a broken finger. Yogi Berra batting with dermatitis (a skin disease) on both hands and Moose Skowron playing with an oversized lady's corset to protect a cranky sacroiliac.

"These Yankees are tough and they'll be even tougher with Mantle in there," continued Gordon. "I like my ball club, though."

The Indians have been indeed fortunate to get good hitting and good infield play from Stickland and Held. Held smashed five home runs in his first eight games and when he was hurt, Leek took over and in his first game smashed out a home run.

The hitting of two ex-Yankees, Vic Power at first base, and Billy Martin, at second, has also been a big lift for the Indians. In pitching the comeback of Score makes them tough.

Dick Brodowski, a 10 - game winner at San Diego, seems to be the Indians' new relief ace. He hadn't allowed an earned run in his first 11 innings. This is the same New Jersey lad who couldn't make it with the Boston Red Sox and later failed to win even once in two years with Washington.

However, until the Indians show signs of weakening, Frank Lane must agree some of the best deals are the ones that never materialize. Two deals that did help Cleveland are the ones which brought Martin from Detroit to play second base and Jimmy Piersall from Boston to play center field.

But as for "putting the team together," as Cleveland writers will have us believe, the Indians were looking all spring for help on the left side of their infield. Now they don't need it. The team that trained in the better springtime climate of Tucson, Ariz., is clicking and certainly looks like the American League's best — or at least second best — team in the west. The Chicago White Sox, you might recall won three of their four games with the Indians in April.

O'Dell Ahead On Homer Bet With Wilhelm

BALTIMORE (AP) — Billy O'Dell was doubly satisfied with his 2-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox Tuesday night.

The Oriole lefty not only felt he had regained his form of last year but he won a wager as well.

O'Dell explained that he and pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm, neither noted for hitting, had bet on who would hit the most home runs during the season.

Both Orioles' runs came on O'Dell's inside-the-park second-inning homer Tuesday night, his first of the year.

"I've won the bet already," O'Dell said after the game.

O'Dell blooped the ball over first base for an apparent scratch single. But it hit on the white-washed wooden foul line and bounced over the head of right fielder Al Smith, charging in to field the ball on the hop. The ball rolled to the auxiliary scoreboard in deep right field.

The victory evened O'Dell's record at 2-2. Harried by a back injury earlier this spring, he was encouraged by the performance of his fast ball. "I'm getting stronger I feel sure of that," he said.

Woman Bowler Cited

DETROIT (AP) — Bowler Marion Ladewig received a big tribute from her home state of Michigan today. Mrs. Ladewig, of Grand Rapids, became the first woman to be voted into the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame. Sports editors and sportscasters chose her among others in their annual elections. She has won more national bowling titles than any other woman.

Fishing was not too good over the weekend because of the drop in the temperature of the water.

The waters in the lakes were 64 degrees and the cold spell brought it down to 54, causing the fish to desert their beds along the shore line and head out for deep water.

This could happen several times during the spawning season, but once the fish spawn they stay on their beds regardless of the weather. While in the act of building their nests in preparation for spawning, they may stop any time the weather gets too cold.

THERE WERE some big, fat, juicy carp being taken over the weekend by some of the boys from East Liverpool who were out fishing for fun.

Paul Utz of Salem informed me he took the roe from the female carp and it was very good eating. I never have tried carp roe, but certainly will in the near future. If it is good, why not a helping of Lake Guilford "cavair"?

I ran across some interesting campers from Lakewood, Ohio. There were doing some weekend "group camping" with 16 families participating, at Lake Guilford.

Actually, there is an organization from the greater Cleveland area known as the Lakewood Campers Club, with a membership of 132 families. The idea was originated when a few families got together and organized their own little circle and planned their camping itinerary during the winter months. Now it is sponsored by the Cleveland Board of Education as one of the many adult activities.

They do not limit their jaunts to Ohio, but trips to other states including Canada and Alaska. The compact type of folding tent trailers are used mostly, with a couple of umbrella tents also employed.

It was easy to see the whole group was enjoying the outing. Some children were along, but not little tots. This kind of recreation without a doubt is worth more than money or medicine for the city dwellers.

ANOTHER interesting angle. They sent a delegation to Columbus last week to meet with the State Parks Commission with recommendations how to improve on the camping situations at the various state parks.

I asked a Mrs. Landers who was the leader what they thought about Lake Guilford. The whole group agreed it was very nice and well kept, but they thought a shower house would be a good addition.

I don't know about that. Some states provide all the comforts of home along with their parking facilities. And even Ohio has some very nice cabins at various parks within the state that can be rented. This organization went on record against costly cabins and would like to see money spent on showers and flush toilets, according to a copy of the resolutions given me.

Maybe swim suits and a bar of soap fall short of ideal conditions, but that's the way we fellows do it up in Canada when roughing it.

COLORFUL Jimmy Demaret of Houston passed up qualifying rounds for the 1959 U. S. Open tournament because he was busy opening a new golf club in Houston and narrating a TV golf show at Las Vegas. Souchak, Ex-Duke Gridder, Having Best Year In Golf

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — A year ago the PGA official tournament book reported that big Mike Souchak was golf's most ove.due player. By that "the book" meant he ought to do better, win maybe a few tournaments or at least one big event.

The former Duke University end and placement kicker had taken four events in 1956—Colonial Invitation, St. Paul, Azalea and Caliente opens — and big things were predicted for him.

In 1957 he was a financial success with $23,270 won, but a bit frustrated competition-wise for he won only the Apple Valley Invitation. He had one second that year and in three other events tied for second. In 10 other events he placed among the top 10.

In 1958 he won only the St. Paul Open. Mike felt like spending half the tour back home at Durham, N. C., with his pretty wife Nancy and their two children.

But things are different now. When Mike finished first in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas it not only meant his richest victory but it put him at the halfway point in what appears to be his best financial year since he turned pro in 1951. He picked up $10,000 in Nevada, another $12,000 in the Calcutta pool plus whatever his Cincinnati golf club sponsor tossed in for his signature on woods, irons and golf balls.

For the first four months of 1959, the popular native of Berwick, Pa., had earned $11,423 on tour. However, that's only the official PGA figure and does not include the Tournament of Champions prize and bonuses. So while another Pennsylvanian and former Duke schoolmate, Art Wall, seems headed for the golfer of the year money title, Souchak already is making this his most worthwhile year on tour.

"When the big putts refused to drop," moans the 200-pound slugger, "I tried to powder the ball. I since have found out that golf is more than a big tee shot. You've got to know how to putt, and trust to luck."

Besides doing well with nice

MIKE SOUCHAK

play-for-paychecks, the 5-foot-11 Souchak is on his game. When he won the T of C it marked the fifth straight in-the-money tournament for Mike this year.

Just before the Las Vegas jackpot he tied with Arnold Palmer for third place in the Houston Classic. It meant $1,850, plus added confidence. The 67 Mike shot for a 278 four-round total was the best final round of tourney. He finished only one stroke back of Jack Burke and Julius Boros who tied for first place. Burke won the playoff with a 64.

Before that Souchak was in the money at Greensboro, S. C., the Masters, the Azalea at Wilmington, N. C., and tied for first with Canada's Stan Leonard in the pro section of the Seminole pro-amateur.

Now he plans to go right out and make this his biggest year.

Hearing Aims At Underworld

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The California Boxing Commission started a hearing today on reports that underworld forces have tried to muscle in on welterweight champion Don Jordan's managerial contract.

Chief of Police William H. Parker says the intelligence division of his department has been working with commission investigators for several weeks. He said the hearing would produce evidence that gang elements have plotted to control the welterweight division.

Louis Dragna and Joe Sica, identified by Chief Parker as gangland characters, are among those to be subpoenaed before the probe. Others subpoenaed are Truman Gibson, head of the National Boxing Enterprises in Chicago; Bill Daly, New York City fight manager; Jack Leonard, Hollywood boxing promoter; and Jordan's manager, Don Nesseth.

Nesseth has openly charged that Frank "Blinky" Palermo of Philadelphia tried to move in on his contract with Jordan.

Today's hearing is one of several in recent years in California into the operation of the fight game.

Second Driver Dies In Trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The 50th death in 50 years was charged today against treacherous turns and hard concrete walls of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in the most disastrous practice period since 1937.

Rookie Bob Cortner, 32, of Redlands, Calif., died Tuesday night of severe head injuries, the second victim this year of preliminaries to the 500-mile race May 30.

Jerry Unser, Lakewood, Calif., was fatally injured in another practice run May 2.

This is the first year more than one person has been killed in the preliminaries since a 1937 mishap fatally injured a mechanic and four spectators.

Cortner, a 10-year veteran of midget car racing but new to the big cars, had completed his Speedway driver's test only Monday. After passing the final 130-mile-an-hour phase, he was permitted to drive as fast as he liked.

He wheeled his new Cornis Special into the northeast turn a little too high and was caught by a crosswind. The car spun into the infield and whipped back across the track to crunch against the retaining wall almost head-on.

Car Kills Boy, 12

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A bicycle carrying two 12-year-old boys toppled over in front of a car Tuesday, killing one of them, Paul Woodard. The other youth, Dana Francis, was injured. The accident happened on Ohio 235, just outside of nearby Fairborn where the boys lived.

Good Bullpen Can Cure Detroit, Dykes Explains

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Dykes says there is nothing wrong with his Detroit Tigers that a good bullpen wouldn't cure.

"It's a good ball club," the veteran of many managerial and coaching jobs says of the team he suddenly found himself directing about three weeks ago when Bill Norman was fired.

"The one thing wrong is that when we have to go to the bullpen we're in trouble. We could use one or two more starters, too."

The Tigers' bullpen trouble traces to the inability of Paul Foytack to perform as expected. He's started eight times and has yet to go the route.

With Foytack faltering, it was necessary to bring in Don Mossi from the bullpen to take up the slack. Mossi has been doing fine in his new role, but is sorely missed in relief.

The original Tiger bullpen had as its standbys Mossi, Ray Narleski and Tom Morgan. Morgan has been ill. Narleski got away to a terrible start, but has been good in two of his last three relief stints.

Dykes makes no secret of his hopes that a deal might be made for a pitcher or two.

Dykes declines to take credit for the club's improved showing since he took over as manager. Prior to that time it had won 2 games and lost 15. Under his direction it has won 10 and lost 5.

"The hitting is good," he observes. "But unless we get complete games from our starters we're in for a tough time."

Motorcyclist Killed

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 32-year-old man was killed Tuesday night when his motorcycle crashed into an automobile in a parking lot at a Chevrolet plant in suburban Parma, where he was employed. The victim was Frank White Jr., Cleveland.

Robber Asks Longer Term—And He Gets It

BOSTON (AP) — Earl Gray, 26, was convicted Tuesday of unarmed robbery.

Superior Court Judge Reuben L. Lurie indicated he planned to sentence Gray to 18 months in jail.

But Gray asked for a longer sentence so he could be confined in State Prison.

Asked why, Gray said "They have a better athletic program at the prison."

Judge Lurie complied by sentencing him to 2½ to 3 years in prison.

Paul Utz of Salem informed me he took the roe from the female carp and it was very good eating. I never have tried carp roe, but certainly will in the near future. If it is good, why not a helping of Lake Guilford "cavair"?

I ran across some interesting campers from Lakewood, Ohio. There were doing some weekend "group camping" with 16 families participating, at Lake Guilford.

Actually, there is an organization from the greater Cleveland area known as the Lakewood Campers Club, with a membership of 132 families. The idea was originated when a few families got together and organized their own little circle and planned their camping itinerary during the winter months. Now it is sponsored by the Cleveland Board of Education as one of the many adult activities.

They do not limit their jaunts to Ohio, but trips to other states including Canada and Alaska. The compact type of folding tent trailers are used mostly, with a couple of umbrella tents also employed.

It was easy to see the whole group was enjoying the outing. Some children were along, but not little tots. This kind of recreation without a doubt is worth more than money or medicine for the city dwellers.

ANOTHER interesting angle. They sent a delegation to Columbus last week to meet with the State Parks Commission with recommendations how to improve on the camping situations at the various state parks.

I asked a Mrs. Landers who was the leader what they thought about Lake Guilford. The whole group agreed it was very nice and well kept, but they thought a shower house would be a good addition.

I don't know about that. Some states provide all the comforts of home along with their parking facilities. And even Ohio has some very nice cabins at various parks within the state that can be rented. This organization went on record against costly cabins and would like to see money spent on showers and flush toilets, according to a copy of the resolutions given me.

Maybe swim suits and a bar of soap fall short of ideal conditions, but that's the way we fellows do it up in Canada when roughing it.

Souchak, Ex-Duke Gridder, Having Best Year In Golf

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — A year ago the PGA official tournament book reported that big Mike Souchak was golf's most ove.due player. By that "the book" meant he ought to do beiter, win maybe a few tournaments or at least one big event.

The former Duke University end and placement kicker had taken four events in 1956—Colonial Invitation, St. Paul, Azalea and Caliente opens — and big things were predicted for him.

In 1957 he was a financial success with $23,270 won, but a bit frustrated competition-wise for he won only the Apple Valley Invitation. He had one second that year and in three other events tied for second. In 10 other events he placed among the top 10.

In 1958 he won only the St. Paul Open. Mike felt like spending half the tour back home at Durham, N. C., with his pretty wife Nancy and their two children.

But things are different now. When Mike finished first in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas it not only meant his richest victory but it put him at the halfway point in what appears to be his best financial year since he turned pro in 1951. He picked up $10,000 in Nevada, another $12,000 in the Calcutta pool plus whatever his Cincinnati golf club sponsor tossed in for his signature on woods, irons and golf balls.

For the first four months of 1959, the popular native of Berwick, Pa., had earned $11,423 on tour. However, that's only the official PGA figure and does not include the Tournament of Champions prize and bonuses. So while another Pennsylvanian and former Duke schoolmate, Art Wall, seems headed for the golfer of the year money title, Souchak already is making this his most worthwhile year on tour.

"When the big putts refused to drop," moans the 200-pound slugger, "I tried to powder the ball. I since have found out that golf is more than a big tee shot. You've got to know how to putt, and trust to luck."

Besides doing well with nice

MIKE SOUCHAK

play-for-paychecks, the 5-foot-11 Souchak is on his game. When he won the T of C it marked the fifth straight in-the-money tournament for Mike this year.

Just before the Las Vegas jackpot he tied with Arnold Palmer for third place in the Houston Classic. It meant $1,850, plus added confidence. The 67 Mike shot for a 278 four-round total was the best final round of tourney. He finished only one stroke back of Jack Burke and Julius Boros who tied for first place. Burke won the playoff with a 64.

Before that Souchak was in the money at Greensboro, S. C., the Masters, the Azalea at Wilmington, N. C., and tied for first with Canada's Stan Leonard in the pro section of the Seminole pro-amateur.

Now he plans to go right out and make this his biggest year.

Hearing Aims At Underworld

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The California Boxing Commission started a hearing today on reports that underworld forces have tried to muscle in on welterweight champion Don Jordan's managerial contract.

Chief of Police William H. Parker says the intelligence division of his department has been working with commission investigators for several weeks. He said the hearing would produce evidence that gang elements have plotted to control the welterweight division.

Louis Dragna and Joe Sica, identified by Chief Parker as gangland characters, are among those to be subpoenaed before the probe. Others subpoenaed are Truman Gibson, head of the National Boxing Enterprises in Chicago; Bill Daly, New York City fight manager; Jack Leonard, Hollywood boxing promoter; and Jordan's manager, Don Nesseth.

Nesseth has openly charged that Frank "Blinky" Palermo of Philadelphia tried to move in on his contract with Jordan.

Today's hearing is one of several in recent years in California into the operation of the fight game.

Second Driver Dies In Trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The 50th death in 50 years was charged today against treacherous turns and hard concrete walls of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in the most disastrous practice period since 1937.

Rookie Bob Cortner, 32, of Redlands, Calif., died Tuesday night of severe head injuries, the second victim this year of preliminaries to the 500-mile race May 30.

Jerry Unser, Lakewood, Calif., was fatally injured in another practice run May 2.

This is the first year more than one person has been killed in the preliminaries since a 1937 mishap fatally injured a mechanic and four spectators.

Cortner, a 10-year veteran of midget car racing but new to the big cars, had completed his Speedway driver's test only Monday. After passing the final 130-mile-an-hour phase, he was permitted to drive as fast as he liked.

He wheeled his new Cornis Special into the northeast turn a little too high and was caught by a crosswind. The car spun into the infield and whipped back across the track to crunch against the retaining wall almost head-on.

Car Kills Boy, 12

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A bicycle carrying two 12-year-old boys toppled over in front of a car Tuesday, killing one of them, Paul Woodard. The other youth, Dana Francis, was injured. The accident happened on Ohio 235, just outside of nearby Fairborn where the boys lived.

Good Bullpen Can Cure Detroit, Dykes Explains

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Dykes says there is nothing wrong with his Detroit Tigers that a good bullpen wouldn't cure.

"It's a good ball club," the veteran of many managerial and coaching jobs says of the team he suddenly found himself directing about three weeks ago when Bill Norman was fired.

"The one thing wrong is that when we have to go to the bullpen we're in trouble. We could use one or two more starters, too."

The Tigers' bullpen trouble traces to the inability of Paul Foytack to perform as expected. He's started eight times and has yet to go the route.

With Foytack faltering, it was necessary to bring in Don Mossi from the bullpen to take up the slack. Mossi has been doing fine in his new role, but is sorely missed in relief.

The original Tiger bullpen had as its standbys Mossi, Ray Narleski and Tom Morgan. Morgan has been ill. Narleski got away to a terrible start, but has been good in two of his last three relief stints.

Dykes makes no secret of his hopes that a deal might be made for a pitcher or two.

Dykes declines to take credit for the club's improved showing since he took over as manager. Prior to that time it had won 2 games and lost 15. Under his direction it has won 10 and lost 5.

"The hitting is good," he observes. "But unless we get complete games from our starters we're in for a tough time."

Robber Asks Longer Term—And He Gets It

BOSTON (AP) — Earl Gray, 26, was convicted Tuesday of unarmed robbery.

Superior Court Judge Reuben L. Lurie indicated he planned to sentence Gray to 18 months in jail.

But Gray asked for a longer sentence so he could be confined in State Prison.

Asked why, Gray said "They have a better athletic program at the prison."

Judge Lurie complied by sentencing him to 2½ to 3 years in prison.

Motorcyclist Killed

Arctic Camps Springing Up

By ARCH MACKENZIE
Associated Press Sports Writer

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP)—The first two sportsmen's camps north of the Canadian treeline are expected to begin operating this year, accommodating anglers willing to pay for the privilege of fishing for arctic char.

Officials of the Northern Affairs Department expect more camps to follow. Seal hunting also is being planned on a limited basis.

Both fishing camps will be located in southern Baffin Island in the eastern Arctic—just across Hudson Strait from the northern tip of Ungava.

The largest is expected to be an operation by former bush pilot Rex Clibbery of Winnipeg and Kenora, Ont., at a site on Frobisher Bay about 50 miles east of the town of Frobisher. He aims to charge $1,500 for a week's stay—including flight in and out.

The other camp will be at Cape Dorset at the southwestern end of Baffin Island. It will be operated by about seven eskimos.

The basis of the fledgling industry is a pink-fleshed fish occurring both in rivers and the ocean almost as far north as scientists have run tests. Arctic char are rated excellent sport, may reach 15 pounds in weight and are taken best on wet-line lures.

The Dorset camp will limit its sportsmen to some 20 a year. They will be flown in by Austen Airways from Moosonee, Ont.

Sprenz Robbery Trial Due For Postponement

CINCINNATI (AP) — The bank robbery trial of Frank Lawrence Sprenz starts today in U. S. District Court, but is assured of a postponement.

Judge John H. Druffel is presiding at another trial. He took no action in the Sprenz case Tuesday.

But he has already granted a defense motion for a psychiatric exam for Sprenz. The report on the mental tests has not yet been given.

Sprenz, 29, of Akron, was indicted on charges he staged a $25,955 bank robbery March 2 in Hamilton and fled in a stolen airplane.

He was arrested later in Mexico and returned here last month.

Increases Are Noted In U.P. Church Report

The church's membership in 1958 reached a high of 3,159,562, compared with 3,102,572 in 1957. Sunday school enrollment rose to 1,932,954 from 1,908,658. The number of ministers jumped to 11,801 from 11,573.

2 Children Lose Lives In Fire At Wellsburg

WELLSBURG (AP) — Two children died in a fire which gutted a building in the Wellsburg business district Tuesday about noon.

They were identified as Debbie Finley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Finley, and Donny Kins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kins. The children were 4 years of age.

The bodies were found huddled together in a boat in the garage, where they apparently had fled to escape the blaze. There were two gasoline cans near the boat, one overturned. Firemen said they believed the children started the blaze, which spread rapidly.

Two cars in the garage were destroyed, their gas tanks exploding.

The family of Mrs. Charles Flaherty, occupants of the apartment, jumped from a window to escape.

Initiation Ceremony In Pond Fatal To Boy

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—The initiation ceremony for a Yakima High School club, being carried out in the water of a small pond east of town, turned into tragedy Tuesday when one of the 16 initiates died.

Henry Sherwood, a 16-year-old sophomore, and 15 other youths dressed in garments made from burlap sacks were being paddled by members of the club, a letterman's organization, in the water when Sherwood sank beneath the surface.

His absence went unnoticed for several minutes. When his companions realized he was missing, they searched and found his body. Attempts to revive the boy failed.

Nixon To Wait After Trip To Set Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon will decide after his July trip to Moscow on the scope of the active campaigning he will begin this fall for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

Nixon added a veteran campaigner to his staff Tuesday in Herbert B. Klein, editor of the San Diego, Calif., Union.

A knowledgeable operator in the field, Klein will serve as a special assistant in charge of press relations. He filled a similar job when Nixon campaigned for congressional candidates in 1958 and was an assistant in the 1956 campaign.

Klein will accompany the vice president on the Moscow trip, which is being viewed by Nixon's associates with some cautious political optimism.

If he has an expected meeting with Nikita Khrushchev and something tangible comes from this conversation, there is speculation that the vice president might give the nation a television accounting on the prospects of some agreement with the Soviets to ease world tensions.

They believe that if the Moscow visit gives him some good reason to do so, Nixon is prepared to exploit any political advantages that might come his way.

Sprenz Robbery Trial Due For Postponement

CINCINNATI (AP) — The bank robbery trial of Frank Lawrence Sprenz starts today in U. S. District Court, but is assured of a postponement.

Judge John H. Druffel is presiding at another trial. He took no action in the Sprenz case Tuesday.

But he has already granted a defense motion for a psychiatric exam for Sprenz. The report on the mental tests has not yet been given.

Sprenz, 29, of Akron, was indicted on charges he staged a $25,955 bank robbery March 2 in Hamilton and fled in a stolen airplane.

He was arrested later in Mexico and returned here last month.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Representatives of Operating Engineers Union locals from throughout Ohio and the Ohio Contractors Assn. will try today to agree on a new contract. Two other unions came to terms with the state's road builders Tuesday.

2 Children Lose Lives In Fire At Wellsburg

WELLSBURG (AP) — Two children died in a fire which gutted a building in the Wellsburg business district Tuesday about noon.

They were identified as Debbie Finley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Finley, and Donny Kins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kins. The children were 4 years of age.

The bodies were found huddled together in a boat in the garage, where they apparently had fled to escape the blaze. There were two gasoline cans near the boat, one overturned. Firemen said they believed the children started the blaze, which spread rapidly.

Two cars in the garage were destroyed, their gas tanks exploding.

The family of Mrs. Charles Flaherty, occupants of the apartment, jumped from a window to escape.

Initiation Ceremony In Pond Fatal To Boy

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—The initiation ceremony for a Yakima High School club, being carried out in the water of a small pond east of town, turned into tragedy Tuesday when one of the 16 initiates died.

Henry Sherwood, a 16-year-old sophomore, and 15 other youths dressed in garments made from burlap sacks were being paddled by members of the club, a letterman's organization, in the water when Sherwood sank beneath the surface.

His absence went unnoticed for several minutes. When his companions realized he was missing, they searched and found his body. Attempts to revive the boy failed.

Nixon To Wait After Trip To Set Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon will decide after his July trip to Moscow on the scope of the active campaigning he will begin this fall for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

Nixon added a veteran campaigner to his staff Tuesday in Herbert B. Klein, editor of the San Diego, Calif., Union.

A knowledgeable operator in the field, Klein will serve as a special assistant in charge of press relations. He filled a similar job when Nixon campaigned for congressional candidates in 1958 and was an assistant in the 1956 campaign.

Klein will accompany the vice president on the Moscow trip, which is being viewed by Nixon's associates with some cautious political optimism.

If he has an expected meeting with Nikita Khrushchev and something tangible comes from this conversation, there is speculation that the vice president might give the nation a television accounting on the prospects of some agreement with the Soviets to ease world tensions.

They believe that if the Moscow visit gives him some good reason to do so, Nixon is prepared to exploit any political advantages that might come his way.

10 Prospective Students Seek Data On KSU Center

Initial counseling of prospective students for the East Liverpool Center of Kent State University "got off to a very fine start Monday night," a KSU aide told the Rotary Club Tuesday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

F. L. Spire, extension director, said KSU officials interviewed 10 prospective students in the first of the counseling sessions planned each Monday night until the center opens in September.

"There is no substitute for a personal conference with a prospective student," the extension director said, "as it affords an opportunity to get a clear picture of the individual's required program."

Fifty persons reasonably certain of enrollment in the center this fall have applied for brochures and bulletins on the educational program offered by KSU, East Liverpool High School officials said.

Spier, in his third talk on the center to the city's service clubs, said he conferred with Miss Frances Jones, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library, and was assured of her co-operation in use of facilities for students doing research.

"Community support is necessary in establishing the center, Spier said, "and a problem facing the Eastern Ohio Council for Higher Education is a matter of providing reference material for students."

Most libraries, outside of those in large cities such as Cleveland and Akron, do not have technical volumes for subjects such as psychology, he said.

Spier, an assistant professor of education, stressed that the center would offer only standard educational courses which are the "core of requirements" leading to a degree.

The subjects will include English, history, philosophy, and science, which are usually taken by a student in his first or second year, the director pointed out.

If 25 are enrolled for a subject, the course will be offered, he said.

Spier also emphasized that the center's sole support would be derived from registration fees of $10 per quarter hour of credit. A three-hour credit course will cost $31.50 in tuition, as a materials fee of 50 cents per quarter hour credit course is charged, he said.

In response to a question, Spier said most students prefer to study two nights a week in the classroom and take two courses per quarter. Classes will be held in the high school from 6 to 10 p. m., he said.

Area students residing outside Ohio in Chester and Newell, or Midland and Hookstown or New Cumberland, will not pay a non-resident fee, he said.

Spier was introduced by Charles Gerster, program chairman.

Rotarians signed a list of recommendations for improvements for the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster to be presented to Rep. Clarence (Dutch) Wetzel after a short discussion of the proposal by Principal George Hargraves. Dean Wilhelm, president, presided.

Guests included School Supt. Ralph Betts and Paul Blair, assistant superintendent.

16 Get Death Penalty For Killing 3 Brothers

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Judge N. V. Rao Tuesday sentenced 16 persons to death for fatally beating three brothers in a dispute over the precedence of bulls in a festival procession.

Witnesses testified the accused surrounded their victims and beat them with sticks. A jury found them guilty of murder, and the judge commented that all 16 defendants were equally responsible.

The victims' father, a village government official, had objected to the accused men giving their bull a place ahead of his sons' at the traditional Festival of Bulls.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Occasionally people write and ask what to do about neighbors, relatives or friends who abuse their children.

Congratulations, Ann, for urging them to contact the juvenile authorities or a service agency. Often people hesitate to interfere. I wish some kind soul had "interfered" in behalf of my sister and myself.

Not all mothers have normal tender feelings toward their children. Some who suffer disappointment and failure take it out on their little ones who can't fight back or escape. Of course they are mentally ill but they don't understand this and neither do their children.

My mother used to beat my little sister with a rolling pin or a wet dish cloth to make her eat. Naturally, the anticipation of the beatings made my sister vomit at mealtime and she couldn't eat anything. This only produced more beatings.

When a visotor brought toys or candy for us we knew enough never to open the package. Mother always took the candy after the guest left.

"Candy isn't good for children," she would say. Then she'd eat it privately.

Toys were always rewrapped for other children because we weren't "good enough to have gifts."

Both my sister and I escaped mother's tyranny by leaving home and getting married — much too young. Thanks to patient psychiatric help I've been able to replace fear and confusion with forgiveness and understanding.

But I'm extremely fortunate. Most adults who were reared as I was are severe neurotics or psychopaths. They try to "get even" by inflicting pain on others.

I often wonder how many murders are committed by people who grew up in a private world of violence and terror.—G.M.

Dear G.M.: Thank you for an excellent letter. In this column, as well as in thousands of personal letters of advice that go to readers every month, we hammer away at the difference between discipline — which is essential — and pure sadistic brutality.

Others have wondered about murders committed by those who "grew up in a world of violence and terror."

Recently I read case studies prepared by doctors from the psychiatric section of the Mayo Clinic. They interviewed six prisoners convicted of first degree murder as a pilot study to determine common factors in the life histories of lone killers.

Among the six murderers interviewed, four suffered unbelievable physical brutality at the hands of their parents.

Again I urge those who suspect children are being maltreated to report it to the authorities. This is not "prying"—it demonstrates your genuine concern for human life. You are your brother's keeper.

Immature Mate

Dear Ann: What do you think of a husband who always buys gifts for his mother's house but nothing for his own? Last week he bought his mother a lovely water tumbler and pitcher set. I'm using jelly jars and cheese glasses.

He says I'm childish to resent his being good to his mother. Am I? Why is he like this anyway? If he sees it in print, it may soak through his walnut head that he's wrong.—N.H.

Dear N. H.: Your husband hasn't been able to cut the apron strings. He's still a little boy trying to get Mom's approval. It's admirable that he's good to his mother but a wife should not be shoved into the background and made to feel as if she's running a poor second. Until your husband reaches manhood don't expect any changes. It won't happen so long as he's in emotional rompers.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I store blankets properly when winter is over?

A. Do not put blankets away in a soiled condition. Wash them in lukewarm suds, and then rinse in the same temperature water. After they are dry, wrap in paper with plenty of camphor, and then again in newspapers, before packing away, to prevent moths.

Q. How can I keep bruises from swelling?

A. By applying immediately a cloth about five folds in thickness, dipped in cold water. When the cloth becomes warm, renew the wetting.

Q. How can I hasten the cooking of string beans?

A. It is claimed by some housewives that string beans will cook in one - half the usual time if they are cut lengthwise, instead of broken in the customary manner.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Most Children Prefer Dressier Clothes

If you let your child, three to ten, choose from among several garments the one he would like to wear, what will the color, pattern, style or texture have to do with his choice? How closely will his choice agree with his mothers? A study was made of this problem on 128 children in this age group by Lucille A. Hunt, and reported in a monograph of the Society for Research in Child Development. For the 128 children, red, yellow, green and blue were about equally preferred; orange and violet considerably less favored.

By Garry Meyers

Red, most popular with five- and six-year-olds, grew less popular with advancing age. Green, ranked third by children five and six, was ranked first by those nine and ten.

SOLID COLOR and geometric designs were most popular; checks slightly less, and stripes least. The check and stripe designs grew more popular with age.

Generally, the less preferred outfit was a type of play clothes and the more preferred, party clothes. However, girls preferred party clothes more often than boys.

Girls preferred skirts or dresses to slacks or jeans for informal situations. The difference between sexes were greatest for the school situations.

Fur was the most preferred texture, followed closely by satin. Broadcloth and corduroy were much less popular and casement cloth by far the least.

FOR COLOR there was, in general, no significant difference between mother and child preference. Red then blue, showed the greatest appeal. The girls tended to agree more than the boys with the mother on party clothes, slightly more on school clothes, and slightly less on play clothes.

As children grow older, the mother seems to influence their choice of style more.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Most Children Prefer Dressier Clothes

If you let your child, three to ten, choose from among several garments the one he would like to wear, what will the color, pattern, style or texture have to do with his choice? How closely will his choice agree with his mothers? A study was made of this problem on 128 children in this age group by Lucille A. Hunt, and reported in a monograph of the Society for Research in Child Development. For the 128 children, red, yellow, green and blue were about equally preferred; orange and violet considerably less favored.

By Garry Meyers

Red, most popular with five- and six-year-olds, grew less popular with advancing age. Green, ranked third by children five and six, was ranked first by those nine and ten.

SOLID COLOR and geometric designs were most popular; checks slightly less, and stripes least. The check and stripe designs grew more popular with age.

Generally, the less preferred outfit was a type of play clothes and the more preferred, party clothes. However, girls preferred party clothes more often than boys.

Girls preferred skirts or dresses to slacks or jeans for informal situations. The difference between sexes were greatest for the school situations.

Fur was the most preferred texture, followed closely by satin. Broadcloth and corduroy were much less popular and casement cloth by far the least.

Apparently these children strongly preferred either the very smooth or soft texture and disliked the rough texture; corduroy became increasingly popular with advancing age and fur less popular.

FOR COLOR there was, in general, no significant difference between mother and child preference. Red then blue, showed the greatest appeal. The girls tended to agree more than the boys with the mother on party clothes, slightly more on school clothes, and slightly less on play clothes.

As children grow older, the mother seems to influence their choice of style more.

Dieters Must Ignore Adverse Comments

Ida Jean Kain

"Friends are urging me to come off my diet for a while. I don't want to stop now—I did that before and got so discouraged when the pounds started back. I've learned good eating habits and your column is helpful on the exercise score too. So please tell me how to stop people from telling me how awful I look. Gosh, no fat person looks wonderful!

"I'm 24 and I've been overweight all my life. Six months ago I started to diet. I weighed 172 pounds for 5 feet 2. I now weigh 137 with these measurements: bust 36, waist 27, hips 38, thigh 23. I eat three balanced meals a day—meat, vegetables, cottage cheese, fruits, etc.—and cut out sweets and fatteners. I feel fine and think I look better. I'm sticking to my new way of eating, no matter what. But do tell me how to cope with my friends."

IN THE MINDS of many people, excess weight is synonymous with robust health. However, insurance company statistics demonstrate very clearly that overweight men and women in every age group have a higher mortality rate than normal weight groups. So excess poundage can scarcely be regarded as "good healthy fat."

Of course your friends and family are used to seeing you heavy, for as you point out, you have been fat all your life. Naturally you look different to them, and because of their outmoded but fixed notion that excess fat is a sign of health, these friends express concern.

Reassure them. Tell them how well you feel and how happy you are to be free of the burden of fat. Ere long, they will comment on how well you are looking! Enthusiasm is contagious. Who knows, you may inspire some of your friends to lighten the load!

Your reducing rate has been perfect. On your new food habits you are well nourished—no doubt better nourished than you were with your haphazard way of careless eating.

Now as to your measurements. Try to set aside ten minutes in the morning and ten in the afternoon to take specific calisthenics, concentrating on the waist, hips and thighs.

TO SLIM THE waist, stretch up, bend sidewards—hold. Swing alternate legs past a 45 degree angle to streamline hips, and make wide circles, knees straight, to slim the thighline. Ideal weight ever after and be a perfect model for all your friends.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled, "Slim Hips In A Hurry." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Underdeveloped Nations Held Key To World Future

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paul G. Hoffman told the Cleveland Council on World Affairs Tuesday night the future of the world depends on whether the yearnings of the peoples of the underdeveloped nations are satisfied.

Hoffman, managing director of the 100-million-dollar United Nations Special Fund, said that hundreds of millions of people whose forefathers accepted poverty, sickness and illiteracy as their normal life "are in active revolt against a continued acceptance of this condition."

"They are demanding an opportunity for a better life and a better living," he told the council at its annual meeting. "Out of these yearnings can come a new better world—or the destruction of any kind of world."

Hoffman said the purpose of the United Nations Special Fund is to finance natural resources surveys, research institutes and training institutes in the underdeveloped countries.

Second Witness Tells Of Phony Bomb Threat

CINCINNATI (AP) — A second prosecution witness has testified he heard lawyer Robert James Smith telephone a bogus bomb scare to Greater Cincinnati Airport.

Robert E. Frye told the jury Tuesday he heard Smith make the call from King Bonding Co., where Smith worked.

It was the second day of trial for Smith on charges of making a false report Jan. 30 on interstate aircraft. The call disrupted air traffic several hours.

The prosecution contends Smith made the call to delay departure of a man who failed to sign a bond application correctly.

River Boaters Hunt Man In Raging Water

But members of Frank A. Rich's family who survived the boat capsizing Sunday refused to believe the 65-year-old Californian wasn't safe. Their hopes were buoyed Tuesday when a helicopter rescued his 65-year-old wife.

Rich, of Lakewood Village, Calif., and his family were tossed into the churning rapids of Cataract Canyon, a deep gorge that sometimes cuts hundreds of feet into the granite rock country 40 air miles southwest of here.

His son and daughter-in-law were found Monday.

The elder Mrs. Rich was unhurt except for some sunburn and a bruise on her right leg.

Man Sentenced To Prison Tosses Chair At Judge

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Jessie Wade, 26, of Canton, threw a chair at Judge Arthur L. Hopper in Jefferson County Common Pleas Court Tuesday after the judge had sentenced him to the Ohio Penitentiary.

The heavy oak chair hit the front of the bench, narrowly missing a court reporter.

Sheriff's deputies subdued Wade with blackjacks and restrained his brother, John, 24, who attempted to join in the fight.

The Wade brothers and Lawrence E. Balser, 55, of East Springfield, had been sentenced to 3-to-30 years in the penitentiary after pleading guilty to the mutilation of Stanley Harmon, 42, a dairy worker, Jan. 17. The attack on Harmon resulted from a disagreement between him and Balser over a woman.

Jack Patterson, 24, also of Canton, will be tried later on the mutilation charge. He pleaded innocent.

$200,000 Loss Seen In Toledo Motel Fire

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Fire Tuesday night destroyed the main building of the Holiday Inn Motel, causing damage estimated by Manager Paul Richards at $200,000.

The 10 patrons and 15 motel employes in the restaurant when the fire broke out dashed to safety. The blaze started from grease on a kitchen grill.

Henry Moyer, 37, a member of the Millbury Volunteer Fire Department, was overcome by smoke and treated at St. Charles hospital here.

Veteran Newsman Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Kellogg Beach, 92, dean of Cleveland newspapermen and a former city editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, died Tuesday. Until a year ago he had conducted his business, the Ohio News Bureau, of which he was founder and president.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Dieters Must Ignore Adverse Comments

"Friends are urging me to come off my diet for a while. I don't want to stop now—I did that before and got so discouraged when the pounds started back. I've learned good eating habits and your column is helpful on the exercise score too. So please tell me how to stop people from telling me how awful I look. Gosh, no fat person looks wonderful!

Ida Jean Kain

"I'm 24 and I've been overweight all my life. Six months ago I started to diet. I weighed 172 pounds for 5 feet 2. I now weigh 137 with these measurements: bust 36, waist 27, hips 38, thigh 23. I eat three balanced meals a day—meat, vegetables, cottage cheese, fruits, etc.—and cut out sweets and fatteners. I feel fine and think I look better. I'm sticking to my new way of eating, no matter what. But do tell me how to cope with my friends."

—:—

IN THE MINDS of many people, excess weight is synonymous with robust health. However, insurance company statistics demonstrate very clearly that overweight men and women in every age group have a higher mortality rate than normal weight groups. So excess poundage can scarcely be regarded as "good healthy fat."

Of course your friends and family are used to seeing you heavy, for as you point out, you have been fat all your life. Naturally you look different to them, and because of their outmoded but fixed notion that excess fat is a sign of health, these friends express concern.

Reassure them. Tell them how well you feel and how happy you are to be free of the burden of fat. Ere long, they will comment on how well you are looking! Enthusiasm is contagious. Who knows, you may inspire some of your friends to lighten the load!

Your reducing rate has been perfect. On your new food habits you are well nourished—no doubt better nourished than you were with your haphazard way of careless eating.

Now as to your measurements. Try to set aside ten minutes in the morning and ten in the afternoon to take specific calisthenics, concentrating on the waist, hips and thighs.

TO SLIM THE waist, stretch up, bend sidewards—hold. Swing alternate legs past a 45 degree angle to streamline hips, and make wide circles, knees straight, to slim the thighline. Ideal weight ever after and be a perfect model for all your friends.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled, "Slim Hips In A Hurry." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Underdeveloped Nations Held Key To World Future

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paul G. Hoffman told the Cleveland Council on World Affairs Tuesday night the future of the world depends on whether the yearnings of the peoples of the underdeveloped nations are satisfied.

Hoffman, managing director of the 100-million-dollar United Nations Special Fund, said that hundreds of millions of people whose forefathers accepted poverty, sickness and illiteracy as their normal life "are in active revolt against a continued acceptance of this condition."

"They are demanding an opportunity for a better life and a better living," he told the council at its annual meeting. "Out of these yearnings can come a new better world—or the destruction of any kind of world."

Hoffman said the purpose of the United Nations Special Fund is to finance natural resources surveys, research institutes and training institutes in the underdeveloped countries.

Second Witness Tells Of Phony Bomb Threat

CINCINNATI (AP) — A second prosecution witness has testified he heard lawyer Robert James Smith telephone a bogus bomb scare to Greater Cincinnati Airport.

Robert E. Frye told the jury Tuesday he heard Smith make the call from King Bonding Co., where Smith worked.

It was the second day of trial for Smith on charges of making a false report Jan. 30 on interstate aircraft. The call disrupted air traffic several hours.

The prosecution contends Smith made the call to delay departure of a man who failed to sign a bond application correctly.

River Boaters Hunt Man In Raging Water

MOAB, Utah (AP) — Veteran river-runners guided a rubber boat through some of the Colorado River's most perilous rapids today, looking for a missing boater last seen clinging to an overturned cabin cruiser.

But members of Frank A. Rich's family who survived the boat capsizing Sunday refused to believe the 65-year-old Californian wasn't safe. Their hopes were buoyed Tuesday when a helicopter rescued his 65-year-old wife.

Rich, of Lakewood Village, Calif., and his family were tossed into the churning rapids of Cataract Canyon, a deep gorge that sometimes cuts hundreds of feet into the granite rock country 40 air miles southwest of here.

His son and daughter-in-law were found Monday.

The elder Mrs. Rich was unhurt except for some sunburn and a bruise on her right leg.

Man Sentenced To Prison Tosses Chair At Judge

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Jessie Wade, 26, of Canton, threw a chair at Judge Arthur L. Hopper in Jefferson County Common Pleas Court Tuesday after the judge had sentenced him to the Ohio Penitentiary.

The heavy oak chair hit the front of the bench, narrowly missing a court reporter.

Sheriff's deputies subdued Wade with blackjacks and restrained his brother, John, 24, who attempted to join in the fight.

The Wade brothers and Lawrence E. Balser, 55, of East Springfield, had been sentenced to 3-to-30 years in the penitentiary after pleading guilty to the mutilation of Stanley Harmon, 42, a dairy worker, Jan. 17. The attack on Harmon resulted from a disagreement between him and Balser over a woman.

Jack Patterson, 24, also of Canton, will be tried later on the mutilation charge. He pleaded innocent.

$200,000 Loss Seen In Toledo Motel Fire

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Fire Tuesday night destroyed the main building of the Holiday Inn Motel, causing damage estimated by Manager Paul Richards at $200,000.

The 10 patrons and 15 motel employes in the restaurant when the fire broke out dashed to safety. The blaze started from grease on a kitchen grill.

Henry Moyer, 37, a member of the Millbury Volunteer Fire Department, was overcome by smoke and treated at St. Charles hospital here.

Veteran Newsman Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Kellogg Beach, 92, dean of Cleveland newspapermen and a former city editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, died Tuesday. Until a year ago he had conducted his business, the Ohio News Bureau, of which he was founder and president.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of my dear mother RUTH E. BROWN who passed away 1 year ago May 20, 1958: A lonely grave up on the hill I often go to see. Dear Mom you are in all my thoughts and all my memories, I cherished you with all my heart, each moment night and day, You really meant the world to me, what more can I say? No one knows how much I miss you, it is sweet to breathe your name. In life I loved you dearly, in death I do the same. Sadly missed by her daughter Alma Dixon May.
